São Paulo, Brazil, March 9, 2004 Companhia Siderúrgica Nacional (CSN) (BOVESPA: CSNA3) (NYSE: SID) announces today its fourth quarter results (4Q03) as well as its 2003 full-year results, in accordance with the Brazilian Corporate Law and denominated in Reais. The comments included in this press release, unless otherwise stated, refer to consolidated results and comparisons are to the fourth quarter 2002 (4Q02) and to 2002 year-end. The real/US dollar exchange rate on December 31, 2003 was R$2.8892.

Message from Benjamin Steinbruch, CEO and Chairman

We are pleased to announce CSN's excellent results achieved in 2003. Thanks to its team's commitment and professionalism, CSN registered important achievements in 2003. CSN Paraná launched two innovative products - Galvalume and pre-painted steel - that supply a promising market segment, due to their high quality and usage level. In the distribution sector, the company got a stronger market position, through its partners and INAL, which is currently the largest Brazilian flat steel distributor, operating all over the country. Once more, we showed a record crude steel production as a result of our technical and technological efficiency, which secures to CSN state of the art product quality and the lowest production cost in the world.

Outside of Brazil, the conclusion of the acquisitions of CSN LLC (USA) and of 50% of Lusosider (Portugal) strengthen our global company status and represent important steps towards the company's internationalization.

For all these reasons, performance of our shares in 2003, both in Brazil and abroad, was excellent and has the fundamentals to maintain the upward trend in 2004. We started 2004 with renewed optimism. The promptness implemented in our processes give us confidence that we can obtain better results than last year. We have structured our actions to better capture value in this moment of world steel demand growth and thus ensure the success of our investments.

As of 2004, our challenge will be to fully participate in the mining business. The large investment to be made in Mineração Casa de Pedra will provide an increase in its installed capacity, which will reach 40 million tons/year. Resulting from growing demand, the competition for the ore that exceeds our steel production needs shall exponentially rise. And we are concentrating efforts to meet such demand in the best way possible.

Record Production and Full Capacity

- Production

In 4Q03, crude steel output reached 1.4 million tons, while rolled finished product volume stood at 1.2 million tons, representing an increase of 2% for crude steel, compared to the same period of 2002.

In 2003, crude steel production amounted to 5,318 thousand tons, a 4% increase over last year's production due to better operating performance of the revamped equipment (BF-3 and HSM-2). Another highlight of the year was the operating performance of Presidente Vargas Mill, which registered an average productivity growth of 7% over 2002, reaching 946 tons/man/year.

- Production Costs (Parent Company)

In 4Q03, total production costs were 38% higher, mostly due to hot rolled coil purchases (to supply CSN Paraná and our coated products customers) and higher prices of purchased coke and scrap. Another important reason was an increase in depreciation resulting from asset revaluations held in April 2003.

Total Production Costs

In addition to the above mentioned items, the increase of zinc costs caused by a larger production of galvanized products impacted the year-over-year comparison. It is also important to mention the impact resulting from the transfer of expenses previously treated as administrative expenses to production costs, as well as the increase of personnel expenses due to the wage adjustment, which was 9.55% in 2002, increasing to more than 18% in 2003 and tariffs increase.

In the breakdown for 4Q03 production costs, we highlight that coal/coke accounted for 24% of total costs compared to 26% in 4Q02. Dollar denominated or dollar linked materials accounted for 36% of cash costs in 4Q03, while in 4Q02 it was 38%.

Net Revenue increased 35% y-o-y

Sales volume of finished products and slabs amounted to 1.5 million tons in the quarter, a 12% increase compared to the same period last year. In the domestic market, sales rose 12%, representing 61% of 4Q03 sales. In the same comparison, export sales were 13% higher.

Consolidated net revenue grew 19%, totaling R$2,022 million, reflecting the higher sales volume and increase in average prices obtained both in domestic and external markets, as well as the consolidation of CSN LLC and Lusosider in the Company's results. Additionally, the improvement of the product mix was a positive contribution from diversifying sales and clients.

For 2003, net revenue had a substantial growth of 35%. Domestic sales constituted 66% of total net revenues, against 69% in 2002. Annual sales volume was 5 million tons, fairly stable (+1%), registering a 21% growth in export sales, which offset the 9% reduction in the domestic market caused by a lower economic activity level in Brazil and the lower pricing practices of competitors during part of the year.

Edgar Filing: NATIONAL STEEL CO - Form 6-K

Export highlights came from the Asian market, representing 60% of our exports, significantly higher due to a stronger demand from the Chinese market that increased its imports 55% compared to 2002. The European market was responsible for 17% of the exports and the Latin American market, for 14%. The North American market represented only 6% of exports sales, due to antidumping and countervailing duties as well as import barriers imposed by the Section 201-safeguard measures (imposition of tariffs or quotes on imported steel products), which were cancelled by the US Government in December 2003.

Gross Profit and EBITDA reached R$3 billion

- Gross Profit

Gross profit in 4Q03 decreased R$98 million due to higher costs per ton, as noted in Production Costs. Likewise, gross margin was 13 percentage points (p.p.) lower, decreasing to 40% in 4Q03.

For the same reason in the full year, although gross profit increased 30% to R$3,140 million, gross margin decreased from 47% in 2002 to 45% in 2003.

- Operational Results

In 2003, operational results were R$2,083 million, a R$588 million increase, driven by a higher gross profit, partially offset by higher sales expenses, as a consequence of higher transportation costs resulting from both high contracted freight prices and from the 13% growth in exports. In the 4Q03, the R$324 million reduction is again due to lower gross profit and higher sales expenses.

- EBITDA

Notwithstanding higher production costs, weak internal demand and the impact of the real appreciation on export sales, CSN maintained its consolidated EBITDA margin (EBITDA divided by net revenues) at 43%. EBITDA reached a record level of R$3,002 million, 32% over 2002 EBITDA of R$2,276 million.

4Q03 EBITDA was 22% lower when compared to 4Q02, totaling R$732 million. Such reduction, in spite of the sales volume increase, is mostly explained by a non-recurrent effect resulting from changes of accounts for provisioning MAE receivables in 4Q02. EBITDA margin fell from 55% to 36%.

Financial Results were less than R$1 billion

Financial results (which include financial revenues and expenses as well as net exchange and monetary variation, but exclude amortization of deferred exchange losses) totaled an expense of R$102 million in the quarter, compared to an expense of R$31 million registered in the same period 2002. Such increase in financial expenses resulted from the non-recurrence of the exchange variation's positive impact on CSN's foreign indebtedness in the quarter, given that the Company had a lower hedge volume in 4Q02. This amount does not include fiscal fines of R$243 million, related to the income tax and social contribution (IT/SC) over the previous years results.

The successful rollover of debt maturities during the year, combined with the exchange variation net effect, provided a reduction in the nominal cost of dollar-denominated gross debt, since the Company maintained an exchange hedge strategy, backing its foreign currency financial charges to CDI (Brazilian Interbank Deposit Rate), produced an annual net debt cost of approximately 11% in 2003, or 46% of annualized CDI. These factors substantially reduced financial expenses from R$ 1,616 million in 2002 to R$903 million in 2003.

Deferred Foreign Exchange Impact: In 2003, the Company amortized R$133 million of 2001 foreign exchange deferrals, while in 2002 the total amortization was R$622 million. The Company will amortize the remaining balance of R$103 million in 2004.

Net income higher than R$1 billion

As a result of the foregoing, the Company's consolidated net income in 4Q03 amounted to R$315 million, 17% lower than 4Q02 net income of R$380 million. In the year, net income reached R$ 1 billion, compared to an R$195 million loss in 2002.

Net Debt/EBITDA = 1.6 x

As of December 31, 2003, consolidated net debt was R$4,908 million, R$575 million lower than the September 30, 2003 net indebtedness of R$5,483 million. Such reduction is due to the increase in cash balance and in time deposits, which amounted to R$4 billion, as a result of funds raised during the year, EBITDA of R$732 million in the quarter and R$3,002 in the year, and working capital variation. Compared to the

Edgar Filing: NATIONAL STEEL CO - Form 6-K

R$4,871 million registered on December 31, 2002, net debt was impacted by the conclusion of the acquisition of CSN, LLC, through the US$175 million loan payment in July 2003. Up until then, this facility was accrued only in US GAAP (General Accounting Principles Accepted in the United States of America).

Gross indebtedness ended the year at R$8,957 million. Compared to September 30, 2003, such amount is approximately R$1.2 billion higher, mostly due to issuances of debentures in the Brazilian market and of 10-year notes in the external market in December 2003.

As previously mentioned, 2003 was marked by an improvement in the Company's debt profile, with the reduction of net debt costs and short-term indebtedness, which ended the year representing 27% of total debt, compared to 38% at September 30, 2003 and 44% at the end of 2002. The main components of such short-term indebtedness are external trade-related facilities, which comprise 26% of the total, and notes issued in the beginning of 2003, representing 26%. Note that the average life of long term debt increased to 6 years.

Net indebtedness at the end of 2003 was 1.6x EBITDA, which is within the Company's expectations announced with the 3Q03 results. The Company expects to bring such ratio down to 1-1.5x annualized EBITDA by the end of 2004.

Investments

In 2003, total capital expenditures amounted to R$831 million. In addition to projects related to the maintenance of technological and operating excellence of Presidente Vargas Mill (UPV), the main highlight is the final investments made in the galvanization, galvalume and pre-painted unit in the state of Paraná. This amount includes the impacts of the consolidation of LusoSider and CSN LLC of approximately R$310 million and the increase in the stake of Sepetiba Tecon (R$52 million).

Recent Events

- On December 8, 2003, CSN placed an R$400 million debenture issue with three-year maturity at a cost of 107% of CDI. Transaction ratings were A+ (bra) FITCH, brA S&P and A3.br Moody's. Funds resulting from such transaction will be spent in strengthening the company's cash position in order to enable the development of its activities and strengthen CSN's liquidity. The transaction recorded the reopening of the Brazilian debentures market since this was the first issue performed by a private company that was fully placed with institutional investors in the near past. On December 19, 2003, CSN issued additional R$500 million, in two series, the first tranche of R$250 million at 106.5% of CDI with three-year maturity and the other, also of R$250 million, at IGPM (General Price Index) +10% and a five-year maturity. The reasons for the second issue are the same as the prior transaction.
- On December 16, 2003, CSN issued, through its subsidiary CSN Islands VIII Corp, US$350 million in 10-year Notes, guaranteed by CSN, with annual coupon of 9.75%. Funds raised through this transaction will be used to extend the debt profile and pay down short-term debt. In January 2004, CSN reopened the transaction and issued, through the same subsidiary, other R$200 million in Notes, with the same features and an annual coupon of 9%.
- On January 27, 2004, CSN approved capital expenditures amounting to US$850 million for an approximately 30-month period from the contracting date, aiming at: an increase in the annual productive capacity expansion of Mina Casa de Pedra to 40 million tons (approximately US$300 million of the total amount); the optimization of Porto Sepetiba, to export iron ore (approximately US$130 million); the installation of a 6 million tons annual capacity pellet plant approximately R$330 million); and the revamping of the Coke Battery # 3 (approximately US$80 million) to achieve self-sufficiency for the current crude steel production capacity.

Outlook

In 2004, CSN expects to grow in the domestic market, following an approximate GDP growth of 3%. As a result, approximately 65% of the company's sales should be sold in the domestic market, while the other 35% is expected to be exported, based on an expected 10% raise in sales volume. The coated product mix will be improved with the consolidation of operations in external markets and also with the beginning of operations of CSN Paraná. As far as prices are concerned, the international market has been reacting quite fast in this quarter, with increases ranging from 15% to 25%, depending on the region. Such prices are expected to be even higher, making predicted average prices approximately 30% higher than in 2003. In the domestic market, prices were adjusted, in average, by 12% last January, and considering the recent adjustments occurred in international markets, the spread to export prices was reduced, in dollar terms.

They are approximately at the same level of European export prices, in dollars. In terms of costs, coke prices continue to rise, which led CSN to announce the revamping of one of its coke batteries in order to achieve self-sufficiency, which is expected to occur in 2006. Freight and coal prices may be adjusted in 2004 as well. Based on the foregoing, we expect to maintain our consolidated EBITDA margin between 40 and 45%.

As far as financial leverage is concerned, the Company intends to keep working within an interval ranging from 1 to 1.5x consolidated net debt/EBITDA, expecting to be closer to 1x by the end of 2004. The current exchange exposure protection policy will be maintained, making our consolidated net debt cost to be lower than 100% of CDI.
