Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Principal Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Principal Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers

(e) Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers

On September 28, 2007, General Physics Corporation (the Company), the principal operating subsidiary of GP Strategies Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the Registrant), entered into new employment agreements with certain of its officers, including Sharon Esposito-Mayer, Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President, and Karl Baer, Executive Vice President (each, an executive or together, the executives), who are both Named Executive Officers of the Registrant. The material terms and conditions of the employment agreements include, but are not limited to, the following:

- The employment agreements have an initial term ending on February 28, 2009, unless earlier terminated by the Company or the executive, and shall automatically be extended and end on the earlier of (a) the executive's termination upon occurrence of certain events as defined in the employment agreement; (b) the date which is at the end of the period of Required Notice, as defined in the employment agreement but in no event less than 12 or more than 15 full calendar months, if the Company or the executive has given written notice to the other to end his/her employment; and (c) the date mutually agreed in writing by the Company and the executive.
- The executives are to be paid a base annual salary at the rate currently paid by the Company to the executives upon entering into the employment agreements. The base salaries shall be reviewed annually on or about March 1 and are subject to such increases as shall be determined by the Board of Directors of the Company.
- The employment agreements impose restrictive non-competition and non-solicitation covenants on the executives during the term of their employment and for a six-month period following termination of their employment.
- In the event of a Change in Control or Sale of the Company (as defined in the employment agreements) during the employment period, all stock options to purchase the Registrant's common stock granted to the executives shall immediately become fully vested and exercisable, and all stock units granted to the executives shall immediately be paid in unrestricted shares of the Registrant's common stock.
- In the event of termination whereby the executive resigns for Just Cause, as defined in the employment agreement, or the Company terminates the executive's employment for reasons other than for cause, as defined in the employment agreement, and the executive is in full compliance with his/her obligations under the employment agreement, the Company shall pay the executive his/her base annual salary at the rate in effect on the date of such termination, and the executive shall continue to be eligible to receive such benefits as the executive would have been entitled to had his/her employment not terminated, for a period of time after termination equal to the length of the Required Notice (as defined in the employment agreement but in no event more than 15 full calendar months).
- In the event of termination whereby the executive resigns for Just Cause, as defined in the employment agreement, or the Company terminates the executive's employment for reasons other than for cause, as defined in the employment agreement, and the executive is not in full compliance with his/her obligations under the employment agreement, the executive would be entitled to his/her unpaid base salary and continuation of benefits through the date of termination only.
- In the event of termination due to the executive's disability (as defined in the employment agreement), the executive would be entitled to his/her unpaid base salary and continuation of benefits through the date of termination only.
- In the event of termination due to the executive's death, the executive would be entitled to his/her full salary through the date of death and the Company shall pay to such executive's spouse or estate the following: his/her full
