PART III – NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach extra Sheets if Needed)

1st Constitution Bancorp (the "Registrant") is filing this Notification of Late Filing on Form 12b-25 with respect to its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended June 30, 2017 (the "Form 10-Q"). The Registrant is unable to file its Form 10-Q within the prescribed time period without unreasonable effort and expense.

Additional time is needed to address an issue that has arisen concerning the presentation of the amortization of deferred loan origination costs in loan interest income and non-interest expenses in the Consolidated Statements of Income. There was no effect on pre-tax income, after-tax income, basic and diluted earnings per share, statements of cash flows, balance sheets, book value, return on assets, return on equity, and regulatory capital ratios in any period. The Registrant believes that a misclassification error occurred in the Registrant's Consolidated Statements of Income for the year ended December 31, 2016, in each of the quarterly periods ended March 31, 2016, June 30, 2016 and September 30, 2016, and in the quarterly period ended March 31, 2017. The effect on the Registrant's Consolidated Statements of Income for these periods was an overstatement of loan interest and an overstatement of non-interest expenses in such Consolidated Statements of Income by an equal amount.

The Registrant expects to file the Form 10-Q on or before the fifth calendar day following the prescribed due date. The Form 10-Q will reflect management's conclusion that there was a material weakness in the Company's disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting as of June 30, 2017.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This Form contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a "safe harbor" for forward-looking statements. When used in this and in future filings by the Registrant with the Securities and Exchange Commission, in the Registrant's press releases and in oral statements made with the approval of an authorized executive officer of the Registrant, the words or phrases "will," "will likely result," "could," "anticipates," "believes," "continues," "expects," "plans," "will continue," "is anticipated," "estimated," "project" or "outlook" or similar expressions (including confirmations by an authorized executive officer of the Registrant of any such expressions made by a third party with respect to the Registrant) are intended to identify forward-looking statements. The Registrant cautions readers not to place undue reliance on any such forward-looking statements, each of which speaks only as of the date made. Such statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from historical earnings and those presently anticipated or projected.

Factors that may cause actual results to differ from those results expressed or implied, include, but are not limited to, those reported in the Registrant's periodic and other reports filed with the SEC, such as the overall economy and the interest rate environment; the ability of customers to repay their obligations; the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses; competition; significant changes in accounting, tax or regulatory practices and requirements; certain interest rate risks; risks associated with investments in mortgage-backed securities; risks associated with speculative construction lending; and risks associated with safeguarding information technology systems. Although management has taken certain steps to mitigate any negative effect of the aforementioned items, significant unfavorable changes could severely impact the assumptions used and could have an adverse effect on profitability. The Registrant undertakes no obligation to publicly revise any forward-looking statements to reflect anticipated or unanticipated events or circumstances occurring after the date of such statements, except as required by law.

PART IV– OTHER INFORMATION

(1) Name and telephone number of person to contact in regard to this notification:

Stephen J. Gilhooly (609) 655-4500
(Name) (Area Code) (Telephone Number)

(2) Have all other periodic reports required under Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 30 of the Investment Company Act of 1940 during the preceding 12 months or for such shorter period that the registrant was required to file such report(s) been filed? If the answer is no, identify report(s).
 Yes No

(3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?
 Yes No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

As disclosed under Part III - Narrative above, a misclassification error was identified in the presentation of the amortization of deferred loan origination costs in loan interest income and non-interest expenses in the Registrant's Consolidated Statements of Income for the corresponding period for the last fiscal year. There was no effect on pre-tax income, after-tax income, basic and diluted earnings per share, statements of cash flows, balance sheets, book value, return on assets, return on equity, and regulatory capital ratios in any period. The effect on the Registrant's Consolidated Statements of Income for these periods was an overstatement of loan interest and an overstatement of non-interest expenses in such Consolidated Statements of Income by an equal amount. For the three and six month periods ended June 30, 2016, loan interest income was reduced by $384,000 and $755,000, respectively, and non-interest expense was reduced by the same amount for each period.
