Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On March 4, 2014 (the “Effective Date”), Navidea Biopharmaceuticals, Inc. (the “Company”) entered into a Loan and Security Agreement (the “Loan Agreement”) with Oxford Finance LLC (“Oxford”), in its capacity as a lender and as collateral agent for other lenders which may later become parties to the Loan Agreement, pursuant to which Oxford agreed to make a term loan to the Company in an aggregate principal amount of $30,000,000 (the “Term Loan”). The principal balance of the Term Loan will bear interest from the Effective Date at a per annum rate of interest (based on a 360 day year) equal to 8.5%. The Company will make monthly payments of interest only commencing on April 1, 2014, and continuing on the first calendar day of each successive month thereafter through and including the first calendar day of the month immediately preceding April 1, 2015 (the “Amortization Date,” which may be extended to April 1, 2016, and again to April 1, 2017, if the Company achieves certain milestones associated with the Company’s Lymphoseek product). Commencing on the Amortization Date, and continuing on the first calendar day of each month thereafter, the Company will make consecutive equal monthly payments of principal and interest, in arrears, to the lenders then party to the Loan Agreement based on: (1) the effective rate of interest as determined pursuant to Section 2.3(a) of the Loan Agreement, and (2) a repayment schedule of 48 months if the Amortization Date is April 1, 2015, 36 months if the Amortization Date is April 1, 2016, and 24 months if the Amortization Date is April 1, 2017. All unpaid principal, and accrued and unpaid interest, with respect to the Term Loan is due and payable in full on March 1, 2019. The Company will also make a final payment to the lenders (the “Final Payment”) in an aggregate amount equal to the original principal amount of Term Loan multiplied by: (1) 7.95% if the Amortization Date is April 1, 2015; (2) 8.95% if the Amortization Date is extended to April 1, 2016; or (3) 9.95% if the Amortization Date is extended to April 1, 2017.

In consideration of Oxford’s agreement to make the loan, the Company paid a non-refundable facility fee of $140,000 to Oxford and reimbursed Oxford for all expenses it incurred in connection with the transaction. Additionally, the Company issued Oxford warrants (the “Series KK Warrants”) to acquire an aggregate 391,032 shares of the Company’s common stock at an exercise price of $1.918 per share (the “Warrant Exercise Price”). The exercise period for the Series KK Warrants expires seven years from the Effective Date. The Warrant Exercise Price is subject to adjustment pursuant to certain anti-dilution provisions contained in the Series KK Warrants.

The Company may voluntarily prepay the Term Loan in full, upon fifteen business days’ prior written notice to Oxford (in its capacity as collateral agent), without penalty, provided that the Company pays to the lenders on the date of such prepayment an aggregate amount equal to the sum of: (1) all outstanding principal of the Term Loan plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon through the prepayment date; (2) the amount of the Final Payment; (3) a prepayment fee equal to (i) 2% of the principal amount of the Term Loan for a prepayment made on or before March 4, 2015, or (ii) 1% of the principal amount of the Term Loan for a prepayment made after March 4, 2015, but on or before March 4, 2016 (no prepayment fee will apply to a prepayment made after March 4, 2016); and (4) all other obligations that are due and payable, including the expenses of the lenders and interest at the Default Rate (as defined in the Loan Agreement) with respect to any past due amounts.

Pursuant to the terms of the Loan Agreement, the Company granted Oxford, for the benefit of Oxford and other lenders which may later become parties to the Loan Agreement, a security interest in the Company’s personal property of every kind, including, without limitation, all goods, accounts (including health care receivables), equipment, inventory, contract rights or rights to payment of money, leases, license agreements, franchise agreements, general intangibles (except as noted below), commercial tort claims, documents, instruments (including any promissory notes), chattel paper (whether tangible or electronic), cash, deposit accounts and other collateral accounts, all certificates of deposit, fixtures, letters of credit rights (whether or not the letter of credit is evidenced by a writing), securities, and all other investment property, supporting obligations, and financial assets, and all of the Company's books relating to the foregoing, and any and all claims, rights and interests in any of the above (collectively, the "Collateral"). The Collateral does not include (i) the Company's intellectual property assets, but does include all accounts and all proceeds of the Company's intellectual property assets or (ii) more than 65% of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote the shares of capital stock of any foreign subsidiary of the Company if a pledge of more than 65% of the Shares of such Subsidiary creates an adverse tax consequence to the Company under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code.

The Loan Agreement requires that the Company adhere to certain affirmative and negative covenants, including, without limitation, financial reporting requirements and a prohibition against the incurrence of indebtedness, or creation of additional liens, other than as specifically permitted by the terms of the Loan Agreement. Oxford (in its capacity as collateral agent) may accelerate the payment terms of the Loan Agreement upon the occurrence of certain events of default set forth in the Loan Agreement, which include, without limitation, the failure of the Company to make timely payments of amounts due under the Loan Agreement, the failure of the Company to adhere to the covenants set forth in the Loan Agreement, and the insolvency of the Company.

Also on March 4, 2014, in connection with the Company entering into the Loan Agreement, the Company and Platinum-Montaur Life Sciences, LLC (“Platinum”) entered into a Second Amendment (the “Second Platinum Amendment”) to the Loan Agreement (the “Platinum Loan Agreement”) between the Company and Platinum, dated July 25, 2012, as amended by the Amendment to Loan Agreement dated June 25, 2013. Platinum and Oxford also entered into a Subordination Agreement, dated March 4, 2014 (the “Subordination Agreement”), which the Company consented to and acknowledged, providing for the subordination of the Company’s indebtedness under the Platinum Loan Agreement to the Company’s indebtedness under the Loan Agreement, among other customary terms and conditions. Contemporaneously with the execution of the Second Platinum Amendment, the Company delivered a Second Amended and Restated Promissory Note, dated March 4, 2014, to Platinum (the “Second Amended Platinum Note”), which amends and restates the Amended Promissory Note, dated June 25, 2013, made by the Company in favor of Platinum in the original principal amount of up to $35,000,000. The Second Platinum Amendment provides, amongst other things, that the applicable rate of interest under the Platinum Loan Agreement will be the greatest of (i) the United States prime rate as reported in The Wall Street Journal plus 6.75%, (ii) 10.0%, and (iii) the highest rate of interest then payable by the Company pursuant to the Loan Agreement plus 0.125%.

The foregoing description of the terms of the Loan Agreement, the Subordination Agreement, the Second Platinum Amendment, the Second Amended Platinum Note, and the Series KK Warrants, is qualified in its entirety by reference to the text of the Loan Agreement, Subordination Agreement, Second Platinum Amendment, Second Amended Platinum Note, and form of Series KK Warrant, copies of which are attached hereto as exhibits 10.1, 10.2, 10.3, 10.4, and 10.5, respectively, and incorporated herein by reference.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On March 5, 2014, the Company issued a press release announcing that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (the “FDA”) has accepted for review an additional Supplemental New Drug Application (“sNDA”) for the proposed expanded label for Lymphoseek® (technetium Tc 99m tilmanocept) Injection to support broader and more flexible use in imaging and lymphatic mapping procedures, including lymphoscintigraphy and other optimization capabilities. Under the Prescription Drug User Fee Act (“PDUFA”), the FDA has set a target review date for the second Lymphoseek sNDA of October 16, 2014. The two Lymphoseek sNDAs now accepted are derived from a single application submitted to the FDA in December 2013. In assessing the application, the FDA chose to separate the filing in two based on the proposed labeling extensions requested and the scope of information provided. This second sNDA application is aimed at expanding the Lymphoseek label to support more flexible utilization practices for Lymphoseek in lymphatic mapping and lymphoscintigraphy imaging. The first sNDA, aimed at Lymphoseek’s use as a sentinel lymph node detection agent in patients with head and neck cancer, received FDA Fast Track designation and was accepted for priority review, as previously announced, with a PDUFA date target of June 16, 2014. Lymphoseek is currently approved for use in lymphatic mapping procedures performed to aid in the diagnostic evaluation of lymph nodes draining a primary tumor in patients with breast cancer and melanoma.
