NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(unaudited, in thousands)

Reference is made to the financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report (Form 10-K) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the year ended March 31, 2004.

The financial statements for the periods ended June 30, 2004 and 2003 are unaudited and include all adjustments necessary to a fair presentation of the results of operations for the periods then ended. All such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. The results of the Company's operations for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results of the Company's operations for a full year.

OPERATIONS

Under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131, Disclosure about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information, the Company's operations are treated as one operating segment as it only reports profit and loss information on an aggregate basis to the chief operating decision maker of the Company. Information about the Company's product sales are as follows:

Product Sales	Three Months Ended June 30,
	2004	2003

MOBIPOCKET

In April 2003, the Company purchased 25% of the outstanding shares of MobiPocket.com S.A. for approximately $525 including expenses. MobiPocket, through its software reader application, enables the reading and secured distribution of electronic content across all the major OS platforms, including Palm OS, Pocket PC OS, Symbian OS, Windows OS and the Company's proprietary operating systems.

This transaction was accounted for by the purchase method of accounting. The Company accounts for the ongoing results of MobiPocket by the equity method of accounting.

STOCK OPTIONS

At June 30, 2004, the Company had two stock-based employee compensation plans, Franklin's 1988 Stock Option Plan, as amended, and Franklin's 1998 Stock Option Plan, as amended. The Company accounts for these plans under the recognition and measurement principles of APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations, under which the Company has elected to follow the disclosure only alternative to accounting for its stock based compensation. Accordingly, no compensation is reflected in net income on the issuance of employee stock options at fair market value.

The following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share if the company had applied the fair value recognition provisions of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock Based Compensation, to stock-based employee compensation:

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In July 2004 E-Data Corporation (E-Data) filed an action against the Company in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas alleging that the Company sold articles over the internet via a system, process, and method that infringed E-Data's United States Patent No. 4,528,643 (the 643 Patent) and asked for monetary damages in connection therewith. The 643 Patent expired in January 2003. As a result, E-Data has not asked for, nor is E-Data entitled to, injunctive relief as against the Company. The Company believes that the action is without merit and that the resolution of this matter will not have a material adverse effect on its financial condition or results of operations.

The Company is subject to other litigation from time to time arising in the ordinary course of its business. The Company does not believe that any such litigation is likely, individually or in the aggregate, to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition of the Company.

RECLASSIFICATIONS

Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior period's financial statements to conform to the current period presentation. These reclassifications had no effect on previously reported results of operations or retained earnings.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS (in thousands)

This 2004 Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may contain statements which constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Those statements include statements regarding the intent and belief or current expectations of Franklin and its management team. Prospective investors are cautioned that any such forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve risks and uncertainties, and that actual results may differ materially from those projected in the forward-looking statements. Such risks and uncertainties include, among other things, the timely availability and acceptance of new electronic books, organizers, and other electronic products, changes in technology, the impact of competitive electronic products, the management of inventories, Franklin's dependence on key licenses, titles and products, Franklin's dependence on third party component suppliers and manufacturers, including those that provide Franklin-specific parts, international sales and currency fluctuations and other risks and uncertainties that may be detailed herein, and from time-to-time, in Franklin's reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Franklin undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements for any reason, even if new information becomes available or other events occur in the future.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Three months ended June 30, 2004 compared with three months ended June 30, 2003:

Net Sales

Sales of $15,990 for the quarter ended June 30, 2004, increased by $1,007 from sales of $14,983 for the same quarter last year. The higher sales in the quarter were primarily attributable to increased reference product sales of $2,329 which were offset in part by a decline in ROLODEX[®] Electronics products sales of $1,031. The increase in reference product sales was mainly due to higher sales in the US Consumer and Central European markets of $2,310 and $570 respectively. These increases were partially offset by a decline in OEM sales of $253 and a reduction of $248 in US direct sales. The decline in sales of ROLODEX[®] Electronics products was mainly due to lower sales to US retailers of $930.

Gross Margin

The gross margin percentage increased to 50% of sales in the current quarter from 47% in the quarter ended June 30, 2003, while gross margin dollars increased by $944. Of the increase in the gross margin dollar amount, $475 is attributable to the higher margin percentage while $469 is due to higher year-over-year sales. The increased margin percentage is primarily due to the introduction of a number of higher margin products in the quarter ending June 30, 2004 and a shift in the Company's sales mix with lower margin ROLODEX[®] Electronics products accounting for only 3% of sales in the current quarter compared with 10% in the prior year quarter. The margin percentage also benefited from the results of the Company's European subsidiaries, as their revenues were helped by the strengthening Euro and British pound while their cost of sales remained fixed in US dollars.

Operating Expenses

Edgar Filing: FRANKLIN ELECTRONIC PUBLISHERS INC - Form 10-Q

Total operating expenses increased to $7,089 in the current quarter from $6,365 in the same period last year. Sales and marketing expense increased to $4,272 (27% of sales) from $4,131 (28% of sales) last year. The increase in sales and marketing expense was due primarily to an increase in trade advertising and promotions of $112 and higher personnel costs of $86 due in part to an increase of $54 in the cost of medical benefits over the prior year period. Research and development expense increased by $160 to $882 (6% of sales) from $722 (5% of sales) last year due primarily to increased personnel costs of $88. General and administrative expense increased by $423 to $1,935 (12% of sales) compared with $1,512 (10% of sales) in the prior year due primarily to higher personnel costs of $260, increased bad debt expense of $50, higher travel and entertainment expense of $34 and increased consulting expense of $26. The increased personnel costs are primarily due to increased medical benefits expense of $75 and higher incentive bonus accruals of $184 directly related to the year-over-year increase in the Company's pre-tax income.

Interest Expense, net

Interest expense, net declined to $67 in the current period from $110 last year because of lower levels of debt outstanding.

Other, net

Other, net was a gain of $35 for the quarter ended June 30, 2004 compared with a loss of $212 in the same period last year. The change is due primarily to the positive results of the Company's hedging program which recorded a gain of $39 in the quarter ended June 30, 2004 as compared to a loss of $243 in the same quarter last year. This improvement was partly offset by a loss of $5 on the repatriation of funds from the Company's foreign subsidiaries in the quarter ended June 30, 2004, compared with gain of $30 in the same period last year.

The Company maintains a program of selling Euros at current rates for future settlement in order to protect the dollar value of sales generated by foreign subsidiaries. Gains or losses on these contracts are offset by the effect of the foreign exchange rate changes on the underlying transactions.

Net Income

For the quarter ended June 30, 2004, net income increased by $499 to $779 from $280 in the same period last year. The increase is primarily due to improved gross margin, on a higher revenue base, of $944 (reflecting improved product mix and stronger foreign currencies), and reduced losses on the Company's hedging program of $282 partly offset by increased operating expenses of $724.

Changes in Financial Condition

Accounts receivable increased by $4,232 to $11,342 at June 30, 2004 from $7,110 at March 31, 2004 primarily because of a seasonal increase in sales of $3,681 during the June 2004 quarter compared with the March 2004 quarter. Inventory increased by $2,886 to $11,293 on June 30, 2004 from $8,407 on March 31, 2004 due to normal seasonal increases as the Company builds inventory for the Back-to-School and holiday seasons. Accounts payable and the balance of the Company's borrowings under its credit facility increased by $3,420 and $3,076 respectively, from March 31, 2004 because of seasonal inventory and cash requirements.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Edgar Filing: FRANKLIN ELECTRONIC PUBLISHERS INC - Form 10-Q

The Company has a \$25,000 secured financing facility with a commercial lender which expires on December 7, 2004. Borrowings under the revolving credit facility bear interest at the bank's prime rate (4.0% at June 30, 2004) plus $\frac{3}{4}\%$ and real property and equipment advances under the facility bear interest at the rate of prime plus $1\frac{1}{2}\%$. As of June 30, 2004 the Company has no outstanding real property or equipment advances. The facility contains certain financial covenants and restrictions on indebtedness, dividend payments, business combinations and other related items. On June 9, 2004, the Company received a waiver from its lender allowing the Company to pay the preferred stock dividend due June 30, 2004 in cash. As of June 30, 2004 no other amounts were available for payment of dividends. Borrowings are collateralized by substantially all assets of the Company. On June 30, 2004 the Company had an aggregate outstanding balance of \$5,451 under the facility and remains in compliance with all covenants. The Company is currently considering proposals from several institutional lenders to replace its financing facility before its December expiration. As the current facility expires on December 7, 2004, amounts outstanding under the facility as of June 30, 2004 and March 31, 2004 are classified as current liabilities.

The Company relies primarily on its revolving credit facility to supplement operating cash flow to meet its financing needs. The amount of credit available under the facility at any time is based upon a formula applied to the Company's accounts receivable, inventory, real estate, and certain capital equipment. As of June 30, 2004, there was credit available of $13,325, of which $5,451 was drawn down and $7,874 remained available. The Company's credit availability and borrowings under the facility fluctuate during the year because of the seasonal nature of the business. During the year ended March 31, 2004, maximum availability and borrowings under the facility approximated $16,800 and $10,500 respectively. The Company does not have any significant capital leases and anticipates that depreciation and amortization for fiscal 2005 will exceed planned capital expenditures.

Management believes that cash flow from operations and the secured financing facility will be adequate to provide for the Company's liquidity and capital needs for the foreseeable future.

The Company has no material commitments for capital expenditures in the next twenty-four months.

Seasonality

The Christmas selling season (October, November and December) and the back to school season (August to mid-September) are the strongest selling periods at retail for the Company's products.

Future Income Tax Benefits

Because of net operating loss carryforwards, no federal income taxes have been provided during the quarter ending June 30, 2004. The Company's deferred tax asset of $5,700 represents the amount that the Company believes that it can reasonably expect to utilize in the foreseeable future.

Contractual Obligations

In April 2003, the Company began to distribute handheld reference products in North America under the Seiko® trademark. In June 2004, the Company entered into cross-distribution agreements with Seiko Instruments, Inc. (SII), which provide for Franklin to continue purchasing Seiko® reference products for distribution in North America for the five years ending March 31, 2009 with a minimum purchase guarantee of approximately $14,042 during the period.

The minimum purchase guarantee by fiscal year is as follows:

Fiscal 2005	$ 2,300
Fiscal 2006	2,530
Fiscal 2007	2,783
Fiscal 2008	3,061

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Management's discussion and analysis of financial condition and results of operations are based upon the Company's consolidated financial statements which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. The preparation of these financial statements requires the Company to make estimates and judgments that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses and related disclosures. On an ongoing basis, the Company evaluates its estimates and judgments based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. The Company annually reviews its financial reporting and disclosure practices and accounting policies to ensure that its financial reporting and disclosures provide accurate and transparent information relative to the current economic and business environment. The Company believes that of its significant accounting policies, the following policy involves a higher degree of judgment and/or complexity:

Asset Impairment In assessing the recoverability of the Company's fixed assets, goodwill and other non-current assets, the Company considers changes in economic conditions and makes assumptions regarding estimated future cash flows and other factors.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISKS

There were no material changes from the information presented in Item 7A of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended March 31, 2004, which is hereby incorporated by reference, with respect to the Company's quantitative and qualitative disclosures about market risks.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

As of June 30, 2004 (the end of the period covered by this report), the Company's management carried out an evaluation, with the participation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures. Based upon that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective in timely alerting them to material information relating to the Company (including the Company's subsidiaries) required to be included in periodic reports filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

In designing and evaluating the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) or 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934), management recognized that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurances of achieving the desired control objectives, as ours are designed to do, and management necessarily was required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures. We believe that our disclosure controls and procedures provide such reasonable assurance.

No change occurred in the Company's internal controls concerning financial reporting during the quarter ended June 30, 2004 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal controls over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

In July 2004 E-Data Corporation (E-Data) filed an action against the Company in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas alleging that the Company sold articles over the internet via a system, process, and method that infringed E-Data's United States Patent No. 4,528,643 (the 643 Patent) and asked for monetary damages in connection therewith. The 643 Patent expired in January 2003. As a result,

Edgar Filing: FRANKLIN ELECTRONIC PUBLISHERS INC - Form 10-Q

E-Data has not asked for, nor is E-Data entitled to, injunctive relief as against the Company. The Company believes that the action is without merit and that the resolution of this matter will not have a material adverse effect on its financial condition or results of operations.

The Company is subject to other litigation from time to time arising in the ordinary course of its business. The Company does not believe that any such litigation is likely, individually or in the aggregate, to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition of the Company.

ITEM 2. CHANGES IN SECURITIES, USE OF PROCEEDS AND ISSUER PURCHASES OF EQUITY SECURITIES

In August 2002, in connection with the hiring of Kurt A. Goszyk as Vice President, Engineering and Chief Technology Officer, the Company entered into a Stock Option Agreement pursuant to which the Company granted Mr. Goszyk an option to purchase 50,000 shares of common stock of the Company at an exercise price of $1.50 per share, the fair market value of the common stock on the date of the grant. Options with respect to one-fourth of the shares of common stock become exercisable on each of the first, second, third and fourth anniversaries of the date of grant. Exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act), for the shares of common stock granted pursuant to such option is claimed under Section 4(2) of the Securities Act.

The Company has a $25 million secured financing facility with a commercial lender which expires on December 7, 2004. The facility contains certain financial covenants and restrictions on indebtedness, dividend payments, business combinations and other related items. As of June 30, 2004 no amounts were available for payment of dividends.
