Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 3, 2006, Mellon Financial Corporation (Mellon) and The Bank of New York Company, Inc. (the Company), entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the Merger Agreement), pursuant to which Mellon and the Company will merge (the Merger) into a newly formed corporation to be named The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation (Bank of New York Mellon).

Subject to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, which has been unanimously approved by the boards of directors of both companies, upon the completion of the Merger each share of Mellon common stock will be converted into one share of Bank of New York Mellon common stock and each share of Company common stock will be converted into 0.9434 shares of Bank of New York Mellon common stock (the Exchange Ratio), with cash to be paid in lieu of fractional shares. Mellon and Company stock options and other equity awards will convert upon completion of the Merger into stock options and equity awards with respect to Bank of New York Mellon common stock, subject in the case of Company stock options and equity awards to adjustment to reflect the Exchange Ratio.

The Merger Agreement contains representations, warranties and covenants of Mellon and the Company, including, among others, covenants (i) to conduct their respective businesses in the ordinary course during the period between the execution of the Merger Agreement and consummation of the Merger and (ii) not to engage in certain kinds of transactions during such period. The board of directors of each company has adopted a resolution recommending the approval and adoption of the Merger Agreement by its respective shareholders, and each party has agreed to put these matters before their shareholders for their consideration. Each party has also agreed not to (i) solicit proposals relating to alternative business combination transactions or (ii) subject to certain exceptions, enter into discussions or negotiations or provide confidential information in connection with any proposals for alternative business combination transactions.

The Merger Agreement also contains a series of covenants reflecting the commitment of the combined company to continue investing and maintaining a substantial presence in the greater Pittsburgh area following the merger.

Consummation of the Merger is subject to various conditions, including (i) requisite approvals of the holders of Mellon and Company common stock, (ii) receipt of regulatory approvals, (iii) the absence of any law or order prohibiting the closing and (iv) effectiveness of the Form S-4 registration statement relating to the Bank of New York Mellon common stock to be issued in the Merger and listing of the Bank of New York Mellon common stock to be issued in the Merger on the New York Stock Exchange. In addition, each party's obligation to consummate the Merger is subject to certain other conditions, including (i) subject to the standards set forth in the Merger Agreement, the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the other party, (ii) compliance of the other party with its covenants in all material respects and (iii) the delivery of opinions from counsel to Mellon and counsel to the Company relating to the U.S. federal income tax code treatment of the Merger.

Under the Merger Agreement, upon completion of the Merger, Thomas A. Renyi, currently chairman of the board and chief executive officer of the Company, will become executive chairman of the board of Bank of New York Mellon for 18 months following the close of the Merger; Robert P. Kelly, currently chairman of the board, president and chief executive officer of Mellon, will become chief executive officer of Bank of New York Mellon and will succeed Mr. Renyi as chairman of the board; and Gerald L. Hassell, currently president of the Company, will become president of Bank of New York Mellon.

Bank of New York Mellon's board of directors will initially be comprised of eighteen members, with ten nominated by the Company and eight nominated by Mellon. When Mr. Kelly succeeds Mr. Renyi as chairman of the board, the number of directors will be reduced to sixteen, with nine nominated by the continuing Company directors and seven nominated by the continuing Mellon directors. Bank of New York Mellon's by-laws will include provisions relating to the management and the board of directors of Bank of New York Mellon after the Merger, as further described in the Merger Agreement.

The Merger Agreement contains certain termination rights for both the Company and Mellon. Under certain circumstances, termination of the Merger Agreement may result in a party having rights under its relevant Stock Option Agreement (described below).

In connection with, and as a condition to, entering into the Merger Agreement, Mellon and the Company entered into separate reciprocal stock option agreements (the Stock Option Agreements), pursuant to which each of Mellon and the Company granted to the other a stock option (the Option) with respect to a number of shares representing up to 19.9% of each party's total outstanding common shares prior to the issuance of shares under the applicable Stock Option Agreement. Neither of the Options is currently exercisable and, as further set forth in the Stock Option Agreements, each Option will only become exercisable upon the occurrence of certain events relating to a third-party acquisition proposal relating to the issuer of the shares covered by the respective Option. The Company's total realizable value under the Option granted by Mellon is subject to a cap of $825 million and Mellon's total realizable value under the Option granted by the Company is subject to a cap of $1.3 billion. Under certain circumstances, each of the parties may be required to repurchase for cash the applicable Option or the shares acquired pursuant to the exercise of such Option.

The foregoing descriptions of the Merger Agreement and the Stock Option Agreements are not complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the Merger Agreement and Stock Option Agreements, copies of which are filed as Exhibits 2.1, 99.1 and 99.2, respectively, hereto and are hereby incorporated into this report by reference.

The Merger Agreement, which has been included to provide investors with information regarding its terms, contains representations and warranties of each of Mellon and the Company. The assertions embodied in those representations and warranties were made for purposes of the Merger Agreement and are subject to qualifications and limitations agreed by the respective parties in connection with negotiating the terms of the Merger Agreement. In addition, certain representations and warranties were made as of a specific date, may be subject to a contractual standard of materiality different from what a shareholder might view as material, or may have been used for purposes of allocating risk between the respective parties rather than establishing matters as facts. Investors should read the Merger Agreement and the Stock Option Agreements together with the other information concerning the Company and Mellon that each company publicly files in reports and statements with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
