Effective October 16, 2007, Cortex Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (the Company) appointed Pierre Tran, M.D., age 48, as its chief medical officer and vice president of clinical development. Prior to joining the Company, from September 2004 to October 2007, Dr. Tran was the senior vice president and chief medical officer of XenoPort, Inc. From 2002 to July 2004, Dr. Tran was global medical director, Joint Antidepressant Group, of Eli Lilly and Company. From 1992 to 2002, Dr. Tran was a physician in clinical research within the Neuroscience Group of Eli Lilly and Company. Dr. Tran received an M.D. from the Université de Franche-Comté (Besançon) in France and a Masters in Medical Management from Tulane University. Dr. Tran completed his residency training at Duke University and earned board certification in general adult psychiatry. Dr. Tran holds an academic appointment as Assistant Consulting Professor in the Department of Psychiatry of Duke University.

In connection with his at-will employment with the Company, Dr. Tran is entitled to a base salary of $305,000 per year and an annual bonus, at the discretion of the Company's Compensation Committee, of up to 30% of his base salary. In addition, in February 2008, the Company will make a one time payment to Dr. Tran of $80,000 to cover a lost bonus opportunity from his prior employer. Dr. Tran also received an option to purchase up to 750,000 shares of the Company's common stock at an exercise price of $0.66 per share, representing the closing price of the Company's common stock on the American Stock Exchange on October 16, 2007. The option has a ten-year term and vests in the following installments: 200,000 on October 16, 2007 and 550,000 in equal monthly installments over a four-year period from October 16, 2007. In the event of Dr. Tran's termination of employment without cause in connection with or within six months following a change in control of the Company, he will be entitled to termination pay equal to twelve months of base salary, continued participation in the Company's health care programs for up to twelve months following termination and full acceleration of unvested options.

As part of his relocation to Southern California, the Company will provide Dr. Tran a mortgage assistance program over four years in the form of an annual payment, whereby the Company will pay 5% of the principal amount of a mortgage (not to exceed $600,000) on his primary residence during the first year, which amount declines by 1% each year thereafter, and which amount will be grossed up to cover Dr. Tran's additional income tax liabilities. In addition to the foregoing, the Company will pay Dr. Tran up to $4,500 per month (grossed up for income tax liabilities) for a period of up to 24 months to cover temporary living expenses and will reimburse Dr. Tran for miscellaneous relocation expenses, real estate closing fees and sales commissions.
