Form of Letter to General Public

Dear:

It is my pleasure to share the enclosed copy of Kindred's 2010 Quality and Social Responsibility Report that highlights the quality care and services we deliver to 33,800 patients and residents daily by nearly 57,000 dedicated employees in 696 sites of service nationwide. This report and our performance illustrates Kindred's committed to being transparent about our quality results and our ongoing efforts to improve person-centered care coordination, transitions in care and advancing the policy goal of continuing the care in a more integrated, cost-effective way. Delivering quality post-acute care services has been and always will be our number one priority.

We are proud that we have been ranked one of Fortune magazine's Most Admired Healthcare Companies in 2009, 2010 and 2011. We take seriously our responsibility to educate the public and policymakers about our challenges, our successes, the changing nature of our patient and resident population and how we care for them and areas for improvement that we are addressing.

As the report illustrates, in 2010 we built upon our quality improvements of the past several years, consistently provided high quality care and customer service outcomes.

Here are just a few quick highlights from the report that illustrate how we delivered on Kindred's promise of hope, healing and recovery:

Our long-term acute care hospitals and nursing and rehabilitation centers continued to outperform national benchmarks in key quality indicators while caring for sicker patients and investing in additional clinical resources to meet their needs.

Our integrated care approach resulted in decreased lengths of stay, fewer rehospitalizations and more patients going home sooner.

The physical, occupational and speech therapy services provided by Peoplefirst led to a 76.4% functional improvement for our patients.

In 2010, we invested more than $300 million in our employees through training, healthcare, tuition reimbursement and other programs.

The 2010 report also features a new section on Powering Innovation. On pages 18 and 19, we detail how Kindred is leading efforts to (1) better integrate care across the post-acute care continuum to improve clinical outcomes and care coordination, (2) is working to successfully transition people home through an episode of care sooner, and (3) reduce avoidable and costly rehospitalizations to short term acute care hospitals. Part of our approach to innovations in care was the development of our annual Clinical Impact Symposia, which brings together over 400 clinicians from around the U.S. to improve the clinical practice of our physicians, therapists, nurses and other caregivers to advance Kindred as a leader in clinical excellence.

Recently we announced plans to acquire RehabCare Group, which will better enable us to Continue the Care for patients and residents across the entire post-acute continuum in local markets. This growth and development is possible because of our dedicated employees and a balanced approach to creating value for our patients, residents, employees and stakeholders.

Thank you for taking the time to review this report. Please contact me with any questions or comments on our report.

Sincerely,

Paul Diaz

Forward-Looking Statements

Information set forth in this document contains forward-looking statements, which involve a number of risks and uncertainties. Kindred and RehabCare caution readers that any forward-looking information is not a guarantee of future performance and that actual results could differ materially from those contained in the forward-looking information. Such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements about the benefits of the business combination transaction involving Kindred and RehabCare, including future financial and operating results, the combined company's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements that are not historical facts.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ from those set forth in the forward-looking statements: (a) the receipt of all required licensure and regulatory approvals and the satisfaction of the closing conditions to the acquisition of RehabCare by Kindred, including approval of the pending transaction by the stockholders of the respective companies, and Kindred's ability to complete the required financing as contemplated by the financing commitment; (b) Kindred's ability to integrate the operations of the acquired hospitals and rehabilitation services operations and realize the anticipated revenues, economies of scale, cost synergies and productivity gains in connection with the RehabCare acquisition and any other acquisitions that may be undertaken during 2011, as and when planned, including the potential for unanticipated issues, expenses and liabilities associated with those acquisitions and the risk that RehabCare fails to meet its expected financial and operating targets; (c) the potential for diversion of management time and resources in seeking to complete the RehabCare acquisition and integrate its operations; (d) the potential failure to retain key employees of RehabCare; (e) the impact of Kindred's significantly increased levels of indebtedness as a result of the RehabCare acquisition on Kindred's funding costs, operating flexibility and ability to fund ongoing operations with additional borrowings, particularly in light of ongoing volatility in the credit and capital markets; (f) the potential for dilution to Kindred stockholders as a result of the RehabCare acquisition; and (g) the ability of Kindred to operate pursuant to the terms of its debt obligations, including Kindred's obligations under financings undertaken to complete the RehabCare acquisition, and the ability of Kindred to operate pursuant to its master lease agreements with Ventas, Inc. (NYSE:VTR). Additional factors that may affect future results are contained in Kindred's and RehabCare's filings with the SEC, which are available at the SEC's web site at www.sec.gov. Many of these factors are beyond the control of Kindred or RehabCare. Kindred and RehabCare disclaim any obligation to update and revise statements contained in these materials based on new information or otherwise.
