<Shareholder Proposal>

Item No. 2 Removal of 1 Director

Item No. 2 is proposed by a shareholder.

[Proposed Resolution]

Removal of Director Takashi Miyoshi

[Reasons for the Proposal]

1. I refer to my question at the 141st Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders, Regarding the Group Management. My question was as follows;

I would like to ask Mr. Miyoshi about Hitachi Building Systems Co., Ltd. My five-story building has an elevator for six passengers. As it has rarely been used, I requested a reduction of the maintenance fee.

More than six months after the request, we had a meeting to discuss the matter. At the meeting, no explanation regarding details of the fee was made, and a fee that was not much different from the existing fee was proposed. I was also told that, as an alternative, a fee could be reduced if I gave up the full-maintenance support that cost me approximately 6 million yen out of 19 million yen that had ever been paid. I was explained that this 6 million yen was a provision for cost of parts which may or may not become necessary someday.

There is no indication that the money has actually been provisioned as explained, and therefore it is gouging.

On the other hand, the maintenance fee has been withdrawn from the bank account every month as before.

An elevator requires maintenance. Therefore, once installed, Hitachi Building Systems will capture high ground. Such high ground has been abused.

Also, when I requested an estimate of renovation work on the rooms for rent, I was offered a price which was 50% higher than the ones offered to the tenants, even though the required work was exactly the same.

With all these things considered, I believe Hitachi Building Systems has been doing what is against the Company's policy, such as betrayal of trust and gouging.

In relation to this, in November last year, I left you a message saying We don't have to waste precious time of the shareholder meeting if you provide a convincing explanation.

Although I have been approaching you with courtesy, you have done nothing for some reason, probably because of your arrogance or impudence.

Haven't you been instructing and supervising employees to earn money by fair means or foul without regard to appearances, because it is what you really want to do?

2. About a month after I asked the question regarding the Group management above, there was an answer saying the Company is also trying to run a business, and therefore we won't change (our management policy).

3. This is against the Company's management policy, Hitachi will affirm the importance of living up to the trust placed in it by society and emphasize the importance of sticking to the straight and narrow, so as to enhance the value of Hitachi brand.

4. Therefore, the Group management by Mr. Takashi Miyoshi, who is a Director in charge of the Group management, is breaching of the fiduciary duty of a Director.

Edgar Filing: HITACHI LTD - Form 6-K

5. Based on the above, I hereby propose removal of Mr. Takashi Miyoshi as a Director of the Company.

(Note) The above is the exact reprint of the proposal and reasons for the proposal submitted by the proposing shareholder.

Business Results

The Japanese economy during the period under review was supported by the bullish economies in Asia, and corporate earnings have started a gradual overall recovery. However, the Great East Japan Earthquake that occurred in March of this year has had a wide-ranging effect on economic activities.

Although a part of the buildings and the production facilities of the Hitachi Group centering on the production base in Ibaraki Prefecture suffered damage from the earthquake, operations have been sequentially restarted by working together towards recovery.

To report on the consolidated business results of the Hitachi Group for the year ended March 31, 2011, after recording deficit for the last four consecutive years, we have achieved the highest profit in our history notwithstanding the effects of damages from the earthquake. In addition to an increase in the revenues centering on a recovery in the construction machinery business for the emerging countries, the revenues in segments including High Functional Materials & Components, Automotive Systems and Electronic Systems & Equipment surpassed the preceding fiscal year. As a result, the revenues increased by 4% from the preceding fiscal year to JPY9,315.8 billion. With respect to profit and loss, in addition to the increase in the revenues, the benefit of activities to streamline our fixed and material costs as well as promote business structure reforms has resulted in posting operating income in all segments including Information & Telecommunication Systems, High Functional Materials & Components, Construction Machinery and Components & Devices. As a result, operating income increased by 120% from the preceding fiscal year to JPY444.5 billion, and net income attributable to Hitachi, Ltd. amounted to JPY238.8 billion.

Annual dividends to our shareholders are 8 yen per share, consisting of the interim dividends in the amount of 5 yen (including dividends in the amount of 2 yen for celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Company) and year-end dividends in the amount of 3 yen.

Measures Taken

In order to achieve new growth and ensure a stable management base through the Social Innovation Business that provides highly sophisticated social infrastructure utilizing information and telecommunication systems technology, in May of last year, we formulated the medium-term business plan. In conjunction with realizing the goals in the plan, we are implementing a review of our overall business structure in addition to strengthening each business unit.

During the period under review, we promoted strengthening of the information & telecommunication systems business which is one of our core businesses. We aimed to strengthen the business structure in this business area by concentrating business resources. Specifically, in October of last year, Hitachi Software Engineering Co., Ltd. and Hitachi Systems & Services, Ltd. merged to be Hitachi Solutions, Ltd. started business activities afresh. In addition, in March of this year, we determined to merge Hitachi Electronics Services Co., Ltd. and Hitachi Information Systems, Ltd.

With regard to our hydroelectric power generation systems business that are expected to undergo increased demand going forward as part of clean renewable energy, we entered into a basic agreement with Mitsubishi Electric Corporation and Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd. in relation to integration of sales, service and engineering operations.

We also entered into an alliance with Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Ltd. in relation to urban railway systems business for overseas markets including cooperation from marketing to construction activities, and maintenance in order to improve our competitiveness and expand our business.

In addition, in March of this year, we determined to transfer our hard disk drive business to Western Digital Corporation. As such, we are further focusing on the Social Innovation Business.

(9) Challenges Facing Hitachi Group

The Great East Japan Earthquake that occurred on March 11 of this year has seriously affected the Japanese economy and society. We have been making a unified effort to implement the following measures as a corporate group active in social infrastructure.

The greatest emphasis has been placed on promoting the restoration of the affected areas by, for example, supporting the disaster affected areas or cooperating in eliminating power shortages.

The situation in relation to the nuclear power plants in Fukushima must be stabilized not only in the short term but also over the medium and long term, and to that end, we will comprehensively cooperate with the government and The Tokyo Electric Power Company, Incorporated.

While the forecast of global economy remains uncertain, we will continue to strive to become a true top global company and will keep growing. Specifically, we will continue to be engaged in the efforts to achieve our Medium-Term Business Plan 2012 and will promote the measures below toward the revival of strong Hitachi.

We will strengthen our local sales systems to enable an optimal response to local needs and overseas R&D and manufacturing systems by precisely grasping new business opportunities from the global viewpoint. Further, we will be actively engaged in fostering and utilizing the human capital that is required for the process.

We will realize high returns and a stable growth by focusing on the Social Innovation Business that provides the highly sophisticated social infrastructure by utilizing the information and telecommunication systems technology.

In order to create a transition to a cost-effective structure that will be advantageous in global markets, we will pursue cost structure reforms across the Group including global procurement and expansion of concentration and intensive purchasing.

(ii) Matters relating to Directors

Compensation for Directors will consist of a monthly salary and a year-end allowance.

The Group invests a great deal of business resources in fundamental research and in the development of market-leading products and businesses that will bear fruit in the future, and realizing the benefits from these management policies requires that they be continued for a set period of time. For this purpose, the Company keeps its shareholders and investors well informed of not just the business results for each period but also of the Company's business policies for creating value in the future.

The Company does not deny the significance of the vitalization of business activities and performance that can be brought about through a change in management control, but it recognizes the necessity of determining the impact on company value and the interests of all shareholders of the buying activities and buyout proposals of parties attempting to acquire a large share of stock of the Company or a Group company by duly examining the business description, future business plans, past investment activities, and other necessary aspects of such a party.

There is no party that is currently attempting to acquire a large share of the Company's stocks nor is there a specific threat, neither does the Company intend to implement specified so-called anti-takeover measures in advance of the appearance of such a party, but the Company does understand that it is one of the natural duties bestowed upon it by the shareholders and investors to continuously monitor the state of trading of the Company's stock and then to immediately take what the Company deems to be the best action in the event of the appearance of a party attempting to purchase a large share of the Company's stock. In particular, together with outside experts, the Company will evaluate the buyout proposal of the party and hold negotiations with the buyer, and if the Company deems that said buyout will not maintain the Company's value and is not in the best interest of the shareholders, then the Company will quickly determine the necessity, content, etc., of specific countermeasures and prepare to implement them. The same response will also be taken in the event a party attempts to acquire a large percentage of the shares of a Group company.

(Notes on Financial Instruments)

1. Status of Financial Instruments

The Company and its subsidiaries, in an endeavor to optimize the capital efficiency of their business activities through efficient management of operating funds, include highly liquid short-term investments, which mature within three months of the date of acquisition and pose little risk of fluctuation in value, in cash equivalents as immediately available financial resources.

Customer credit risk regarding receivables is managed based mainly on the current economic conditions, inherent risks, the financial position of the relevant customer and the past record.

Investments in available-for-sale securities mainly comprise equity securities, which are managed by constantly tracking the market value in the case of listed stocks and the financial position of the entity subject to investment in the case of unlisted stocks.

Short-term and long-term debts were used mainly to fund business operations and capital expenditures.

As regards derivatives, foreign currency and interest rate risks are managed by constantly measuring and assessing the net exposures thereto, as well as by examining effective hedging relationships. Further, derivatives are not held for investment purposes as a matter of basic policy.

Subordinated interests retained in securitizations are partial interests in receivables, which were securitized for the purpose of diversifying the means of procuring capital, retained by the Company and subsidiaries pursuant to the agreement with the assignee of said receivables.

2. Market Value, etc. of Financial Instruments

The premises and methods for estimating fair values are as follows:

Cash and cash equivalents, trade receivables, short-term debt, trade payables:

The consolidated balance sheet amounts approximate the estimated fair values due to their short maturity.

Available-for-sale securities:

The market value of the relevant available-for-sale security or the market value of an available-for-sale security similar thereto is mainly used as the estimated fair value. On the rare occasion that a key indicator for the measurement of the relevant fair value is not observable, pertinent information provided by financial institutions is verified mainly by the income approach or the market approach for use as the estimated fair value. Since fair value measurement involves excessive cost in the case of unlisted stocks, due to the absence of market values therefore, fair value estimates are not provided for such stocks as a general rule. The consolidated balance sheet amount for such unlisted stocks as of March 31, 2011 was JPY48,144 million.

Financial assets transferred to consolidated securitization entities:

In terms of the portion corresponding to the transferred mortgage loan receivable, the present value of future cash flow is used as estimated fair value.

Derivatives:

The market rate of respective derivatives is used as the estimated fair value.

Subordinated interests retained in securitizations:

The present value of future cash flows from subordinated interests retained mainly in securitization of leases subject to relatively long original contracts is used as the estimated fair value.

Long-term debt and liabilities associated with the consolidation of securitization entities:

The market value of the relevant debt or the present value of future cash flows based on the interest rate applicable to an additional debt of the same form is used as the estimated fair value.
