Key Messages about 2012 Performance

Corning is an innovation company, with a 160 year history of inventing technologies and starting new businesses. These technology businesses can experience volatility from time to time

In late 2011 and 2012, we had major market upheavals in two of our main businesses (Display and Solar)

Display experienced significant price declines (> 20%)

Dow Corning impacted by solar industry upheaval with price down over 50%

These were permanent industry resets and were communicated to investors. The Board approved a 2012 plan focused on

Stopping/mitigating decline in profitability in these two businesses

Accelerating growth in the other businesses

Extreme rigor in cost / cash management across the organization

Careful program choices

Our leadership delivered results better than the plan and bonuses paid out accordingly

Corning delivered record revenues and the 3rd highest profit in our history

Operating cash flow and our balance sheet are strong

Edgar Filing: CORNING INC /NY - Form DEFA14A

Cash bonus at 124% of target and LTI (cash performance units) at 117% of target

Flat TSR was disappointing but we have taken additional actions to deliver value to shareholders

Dividend increase (2 increases in last 18 month)

Share buy-back program ($1.5 Billion in 2011/2012)

Our TSR was in line with or better than our two largest competitors in the display glass industry

2012 Performance impact on CEO Compensation

CEO pay is up 20% year over year

3% salary increase (in line with merit budget for all salaried employees)

Remainder driven by performance related pay coming off low 2011 payout

Short term cash bonus from 10% of target in 2011 to 124% of target in 2012,

Long term Cash Performance Units from 60% of target in 2011 to 117% of target in 2012

Our CEO is paid at or under median (actual reported pay for 2012 was at 80% of median for Company Peers, and 100% of median for ISS Peers) which is appropriate given our size and complexity

Our pay practices and philosophies are conservative

Both ISS and Corning take revenues and market cap into account to establish peer groups

Our Market Cap is top quartile (top 25%) and profitability is top-decile (top 10%) among the ISS peer group companies, even after the industry resets

Say on Pay

ISS acknowledges reset of Corning's profitability was real and communicated to shareholders in a timely and appropriate form. However, they believe that targeted pay should have been reduced.

Corning's Compensation Committee believes targeted pay is set by comparison to peers (ISS and Corning have overlapping peer groups)

Corning CEO targeted total direct compensation up 1% in 2012

CEO targeted pay at median for ISS peers

Corning's Board recommends a FOR vote on Say on Pay

The Board of Directors recommends that you vote FOR: the twelve nominees to the Board of Directors; the advisory vote to approve executive compensation; and the ratification of PricewaterhouseCoopers as our independent registered public accounting firm.
