Weyerhaeuser / Plum Creek Merger Employee Q&A

#	QUESTION	ANSWER
1.	What is the rationale for the decision to merge these two companies?	We have been looking for opportunities to grow our company in ways that will drive shareholder value and ensure our long-term success. This transaction is a fantastic opportunity for us. Upon closing, we will be the world's premier timber, land and forest products company with more than 13 million acres of some of the most diverse and productive forests in the U.S. Our wood products facilities will benefit from access to an expanded timber portfolio, which will support their success and future growth.
2.	When will the transaction be complete?	The combined strengths of these two industry leaders will create a winning organization that is uniquely positioned to capitalize on the improving housing market and achieve great financial results. The transaction is expected to close in late first quarter or early second quarter of 2016, subject to customary closing conditions including shareholder approval from both companies.
3.	What can we expect to happen over the next several months until the transaction closes?	Until the transaction closes, Weyerhaeuser and Plum Creek will continue to operate separately. Operations will remain business as usual at both organizations. As is customary in transactions like this, select teams will begin working on integration planning. But for most employees, there should be no impact on your day-to-day work.

Change is always stressful. Over the next few months it will be especially important that we all stay focused on keeping ourselves and each other safe, and on meeting our business goals and commitments.

- 4. Will there be layoffs? Both companies will continue to operate separately with their existing teams in place until the transaction closes, which is expected to occur in the late first quarter or early second quarter of 2016.
- We have committed to achieve $100 million in cost synergies in the first full year after the transaction closes. These cost reductions will primarily come from corporate and operating overhead. This means not everyone will continue to have a role in the combined company.
- At this time, no decisions have been made about which roles are needed for the combined company or who will fill those roles. In the coming months, the new senior management team will follow a disciplined process to evaluate talent from both companies and make the best decisions to build their teams.
- 5. When will I know if I still have a job? The new senior management team is committed to moving as quickly as possible to make decisions about how to integrate the two companies, which roles are needed, and who will fill those roles. They will communicate those decisions as soon as possible after they are made.
- Both companies will continue to operate separately with their existing teams in place until the transaction closes, which is expected to occur in the late first quarter or early second quarter of 2016.
- 6. What process will we use to determine which people have roles in the combined company? The new senior management team will first determine what structure and roles are needed for the combined company. Once that is complete, they will follow a disciplined and open-minded process to evaluate talent from both companies to fill those roles.
- 7. If I lose my job, will I be entitled to the Weyerhaeuser severance package? Yes, the Weyerhaeuser severance package will continue to be available to eligible Weyerhaeuser employees.
- 8. What if I don't want to be part of the new company? Can I still get a severance package? Can I opt for an early retirement package? The company will not offer early retirement packages or severance to employees who are offered a role, but who decide not to remain with Weyerhaeuser.
- 9. Will the combined company retain Weyerhaeuser's pay and benefits? The compensation and benefits packages for both companies are similar. After the transaction closes, we will work to move Plum Creek employees into the Weyerhaeuser compensation and benefit plans. We expect to have that transition completed by January 2017.
- 10. Can I reach out to the people I know at Plum Creek to talk about this transaction? Until the transaction closes, Weyerhaeuser and Plum Creek will continue to operate separately. This means you must interact with Plum Creek employees as you normally would with any other competitor. Any conversations outside the normal course of business must be cleared by our legal department.

- 11. What can I say to customers, contractors and suppliers about this transaction? We will be contacting companies with whom we have business relationships to inform them about this announcement in person, via calls and/or formal letters. Each senior management team leader will manage that process within their organizations.

Employees should refer all other external queries to our website for detailed information about the announcements.

- 12. What do I do if I am contacted by media? Employees must not speak to the media about this transaction. Please forward all inquiries to Anthony Chavez at 253-924-7148.
