Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

As of November 30, 2004 and for the
Three and Nine Months Ended November 30, 2004 and 2003
(unaudited)

1. Background Information

American Commerce Solutions, Inc. was incorporated in Rhode Island in 1991 under the name Jaque Dubois, Inc., and was re-incorporated in Delaware in 1994. In July 1995, Jaque Dubois, Inc. changed its name to JD American Workwear, Inc. In December 2000, the stockholders voted at the annual stockholders meeting to change the name of JD American Workwear, Inc. to American Commerce Solutions, Inc. (the "Company").

The Company is primarily a holding company with two wholly owned subsidiaries; International Machine and Welding, Inc. is engaged in the machining and fabrication of parts used in industry, and parts sales and service for heavy construction equipment; Chariot Manufacturing Company, Inc., which was acquired on October 11, 2003 from a related party, manufactures motorcycle trailers with fiberglass bodies.

2. Stock Based Compensation

At November 30, 2004, the Company has two stock-based employee compensation plans, all of which have been approved by the shareholders. The Company accounts for those plans under the recognition and measurement principles of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" and related Interpretations. The Company recognized $15,000, $45,600, $45,000 and $129,300 for the three and nine month periods ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, respectively, in stock-based employee compensation cost which is reflected in net loss. The following table illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share if the Company had applied the fair value recognition provisions of FASB Statement 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation", to stock-based employee compensation.

3. Going Concern

The Company has incurred substantial operating losses since inception and has used approximately $456,000 of cash in operations for the nine months ended November 30, 2004. The Company recorded losses from continuing operations of $386,085 and $1,119,172 for the three and nine months ended November 30, 2004, respectively. Current liabilities exceed current assets by $1,343,543 at November 30, 2004. Additionally, the Company is in default on several notes payable. The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to reverse negative operating trends, raise additional capital, and obtain debt financing.

Management has revised its business strategy to include expansion into other lines of business through the acquisition of other companies in exchange for the Company's stock. Management is currently negotiating new debt financing, the proceeds from which would be used to settle outstanding debts at more favorable terms, to finance operations, and to complete additional business acquisitions. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to raise capital, obtain debt financing, or improve operating results sufficiently to continue as a going concern.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded assets, or the amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

4. Basis of Presentation

In the opinion of management, all adjustments consisting only of normal recurring adjustments necessary for a fair statement of (a) the results of operations for the three and nine month periods ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, (b) the financial position at November 30, 2004, and (c) cash flows for the nine month periods ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, have been made.

The unaudited consolidated financial statements and notes are presented as permitted by Form 10-QSB. Accordingly, certain information and note disclosures normally included in condensed financial statements prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America have been omitted. The accompanying consolidated financial statements and notes should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and notes of the Company for the fiscal year ended February 29, 2004. The results of operations for the three and nine month periods ended November 30, 2004 are not necessarily indicative of those to be expected for the entire year.

5. Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment. This statement revises SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, originally issued in October 1995. The statement eliminates the alternative use of APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. Under the revised SFAS No. 123, public entities are required to measure liabilities incurred to employees in share-based payment transactions at fair value. Entities are required to estimate the number of instruments for which the requisite service is expected to be rendered rather than accounting for forfeitures as they occur, as permitted under the original statement. Incremental compensation cost for a modification of the terms or conditions of an award is now to be measured by comparing the fair value of the modified award with the fair value of the award immediately before the modification. The original statement required that the value of the award before modification be determined on the shorter of its remaining initially expected life or the expected life of the modified award. The revised statement also clarifies and expands guidance in several areas, including measuring fair value, classifying an award as equity or as a liability and attributing compensation cost to reporting periods. It also requires that excess tax benefits be reported as a financing cash flow. The effective date is as of the beginning of the first interim period or annual reporting period that begins after June 15, 2005. The Company does not believe that the adoption of this statement will have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 153, Exchanges of Nonmonetary Assets, an amendment of APB Opinion No. 29. The guidance in APB Opinion No. 29, Accounting for Nonmonetary Transactions, is based on the principle that exchanges of nonmonetary assets should be measured based on fair value of the assets exchanged. The guidance included certain exceptions to that principle. This statement amends Opinion No. 29 to eliminate the exception for nonmonetary exchanges of similar productive assets and replaces it with a general exception for exchanges of nonmonetary assets that do not have commercial substance. A nonmonetary exchange has commercial substance if the future cash flows of the entity are expected to change significantly as a result of the exchange. This statement shall be effective for nonmonetary exchanges occurring in fiscal periods beginning after June 15, 2005. The Company does not believe that the adoption of this statement will have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.

6. Accounts Receivable, Factored

During the three months ended November 30, 2004, the Company factored receivables of approximately $488,200. In connection with the factoring agreement, the Company incurred fees of approximately $13,100 and $44,400 during the three and nine months ended November 30, 2004. As of November 30, 2004, certain vendors had remitted $41,841 to the Company on factored receivables; the Company recorded this amount as due to the factor and it is included in accrued expenses on the accompanying consolidated balance sheet. Any and all of the Company's indebtedness and obligations to the Factoring Company is guaranteed by two stockholders and collateralized by the Company's inventory and fixed assets.

7. Acquisition of Assets

During the nine months ended November 30, 2004, the Company entered into a purchase agreement to acquire certain assets, including equipment and inventory from a supplier for $848,650. The Company acquired equipment and inventory valued at $768,826 and $6,208, respectively, and forgiveness of payables of $73,616 by the supplier. In exchange for the assets and forgiveness of payables, the Company assigned receivables $131,658, forgave debt of $273,376 and issued notes payable of $443,616.

Stock-based compensation to non-employees is valued using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. During the nine months ended November 30, 2004 the Company received $273,994 when 16,000,000 options to purchase common stock were issued to and exercised by consultants. Gross profit as a percentage of sales was 30% and 38% for the three month periods ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, respectively. The decrease in gross profit was due to a lower gross profit margin related to Chariot Manufacturing Company, Inc.

Consolidated interest expense for the three months ended November 30, 2004 was $42,020 as compared to $46,048 for same period in 2003. The overall decrease in interest expense was due to the overall decrease in long term debt.

Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased to $547,148 for the three months ended November 30, 2004 as compared to $657,662 for the three months ended November 30, 2003, a decrease of $110,514 or 17%. The decrease was primarily due to a decrease in consulting expenses, professional fees for legal services and the Company decreasing the amount of options issued under the Employee Stock Incentive Plan for 2003 and the Non Qualifying Stock Option Plan.

The Company incurred a net consolidated loss of $386,085 for the three months ended November 30, 2004 compared to a loss of $501,114 for the three months ended November 30, 2003. The decrease in the consolidated net loss is primarily due to the increase in net sales and the reduction of selling, general and administrative expenses. As a result of the continued losses, the Independent Auditors have questioned the Company's continuation as a going concern.

Manufacturing Subsidiary

The manufacturing operation, International Machine and Welding, Inc. provided net sales of $668,721 for the three months ended November 30, 2004 compared to $489,878 for the three months ended November 30, 2003. The overall increase in net sales is due to an increase in sales through improved marketing for the three months ended November 30, 2004 as compared to the three months ended November 30, 2003.

Interest expense was $23,937 for the three months ended November 30, 2004 compared to $37,249 for the same period ended 2003. The Company does not have discrete financial information on each of the three manufacturing divisions, nor does the Company make decisions on the divisions separately; therefore they are not reported as segments.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

During the nine months ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, the Company used net cash from operating activities of ($456,272) and ($708,331), respectively. This decrease in cash used by operating activities is primarily due to an increase in accounts payable and accrued expenses during the nine months ended November 30, 2004 as compared to the same period in 2003.

During the nine months ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, the Company provided (used) cash for investing activities of $13,021 and ($45,916), respectively. The increase in net cash provided for investing activities is primarily due to the decrease in other receivables during 2004.

During the nine months ended November 30, 2004 and 2003, the Company provided cash from financing activities of $393,884 and $817,226, respectively. The decrease in net cash provided from financing activities is due to the decrease in exercise of stock options and warrants during 2004.

Cash flows from operations and loans or the sale of equity provided for working capital needs and principal payments on long-term debt through November 30, 2004. As of November 30, 2004, working capital was ($1,343,543). To the extent that the cash flows from operations are insufficient to finance the Company's anticipated growth, or its other liquidity and capital requirements during the next twelve months, the Company will seek additional financing from alternative sources including bank loans or other bank financing arrangements, other debt financing, the sale of equity securities (including those issuable pursuant to the exercise of outstanding warrants and options), or other financing arrangements. However, there can be no assurance that any such financing will be available and, if available, that it will be available on terms favorable or acceptable to the Company.

Management has revised its business strategy to include expansion into other lines of business through the acquisition of other companies in exchange for the Company's stock. Although management has reduced debt, new financing to finance operations and to complete additional business acquisitions is still being sought. However, there can be no assurance that the Company will be able to raise capital, obtain debt financing, or improve operating results sufficiently to continue as a going concern.

On June 7, 2004, American Commerce Solutions, Inc. entered into an agreement to acquire 100% of the capital stock of Crystal Clear Entertainment, Inc. ("CCE") and its subsidiaries for a combination of common and preferred stock to be valued at the total of the book value of Crystal Clear Entertainment, Inc. plus the value of the assets of CCE's subsidiaries and 60% of the net profit projected for all CCE contracts. On September 10, 2004, the Company announced the rescission of the acquisition by means of an agreement between the parties due to the prohibitively high costs of the anticipated raise of capital. The Company incurred no termination penalties as a result of the rescission.

Effective July 1, 2004, American Commerce Solutions, Inc. entered into an agreement to acquire 100% of the assets of Affordable Fiberglass Group (AFG) for a combination of debt forgiveness, notes payable and assignment of receivables to the total appraised value of the assets. The appraised value of the assets was determined to be $848,650 and is included in the consolidated financial statements.

Seasonality

The diversity of operations in the Manufacturing Segment protects it from seasonal trends except in the sales of agricultural processing equipment whereby the majority of the revenue is generated while the processors await the next harvest.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

The Company has prepared the accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for interim financial information. All intercompany transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. The preparation of consolidated unaudited financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated unaudited financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company reviews its estimates, including but not limited to, recoverability of long-lived assets, recoverability of prepaid expenses and allowance for doubtful accounts, on a regular basis and makes adjustments based on historical experiences and existing and expected future conditions. These evaluations are performed and adjustments are made as information is available. Management believes that these estimates are reasonable; however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

We believe that the following critical policies affect our more significant judgments and estimates used in preparation of our consolidated unaudited financial statements.

We maintain allowances for doubtful accounts for estimated losses resulting from the inability of our customers to make required payments. We base our estimate on an analysis of the Company's prior collection experience, customer credit worthiness, and current economic trends. If the financial condition of our customers were to deteriorate, additional allowances may be required.

We value our inventories at the lower of cost or market. Cost is determined on a standard cost basis that approximates the first-in, first-out method; market is determined based on net realizable value. We write down inventory balances for estimated obsolescence or unmarketable inventory equal to the difference between the cost of the inventory and the estimated market value based upon assumptions about future demand and market conditions. If actual market conditions are less favorable than those projected by management, additional inventory write-downs may be required.

We value our property and equipment at cost. Amortization and depreciation are calculated using the straight-line and accelerated methods of accounting over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Maintenance and repairs are charged to operations when incurred. Betterments and renewals are capitalized. When property and equipment are sold or otherwise disposed of, the asset account and related accumulated depreciation account are relieved, and any gain or loss is included in operations.

Fair value estimates used in preparation of the consolidated unaudited financial statements are based upon certain market assumptions and pertinent information available to management. The respective carrying value of certain on-balance-sheet financial instruments approximated their fair values. These financial instruments include cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and accrued expenses. Fair values were assumed to approximate carrying values for these financial instruments since they are short-term in nature and their carrying amounts approximate fair values or they are receivable or payable on demand. The fair value of the Company's notes payable is estimated based upon the quoted market prices for the same or similar issues or on the current rates offered to the Company for debt of the same remaining maturities.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the estimated future tax consequences attributable to differences between the consolidated unaudited financial statements carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective income tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized as income in the period that included the enactment date.

RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment. This statement revises SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, originally issued in October 1995. The statement eliminates the alternative use of APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. Under the revised SFAS No. 123, public entities are required to measure liabilities incurred to employees in share-based payment transactions at fair value. Entities are required to estimate the number of instruments for which the requisite service is expected to be rendered rather than accounting for forfeitures as they occur, as permitted under the original statement.

Incremental compensation cost for a modification of the terms or conditions of an award is now to be measured by comparing the fair value of the modified award with the fair value of the award immediately before the modification. The original statement required that the value of the award before modification be determined on the shorter of its remaining initially expected life or the expected life of the modified award. The revised statement also clarifies and expands guidance in several areas, including measuring fair value, classifying an award as equity or as a liability and attributing compensation cost to reporting periods. It also requires that excess tax benefits be reported as a financing cash flow. The effective date is as of the beginning of the first interim period or annual reporting period that begins after June 15, 2005. The Company does not believe that the adoption of this statement will have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.

In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 153, Exchanges of Nonmonetary Assets, an amendment of APB Opinion No. 29. The guidance in APB Opinion No. 29, Accounting for Nonmonetary Transactions, is based on the principle that exchanges of nonmonetary assets should be measured based on fair value of the assets exchanged. The guidance included certain exceptions to that principle. This statement amends Opinion No. 29 to eliminate the exception for nonmonetary exchanges of similar productive assets and replaces it with a general exception for exchanges of nonmonetary assets that do not have commercial substance. A nonmonetary exchange has commercial substance if the future cash flows of the entity are expected to change significantly as a result of the exchange. This statement shall be effective for nonmonetary exchanges occurring in fiscal periods beginning after June 15, 2005. The Company does not believe that the adoption of this statement will have a material effect on its consolidated financial statements.
