TEVA ANNOUNCES COURT ADOPTS ALL RELEVANT TEVA CLAIM CONSTRUCTION INTERPRETATIONS IN COPAXONE® PATENT INFRINGEMENT CASE AGAINST SANDOZ/MOMENTA AND MYLAN/NATCO; COURT DENIES MYLAN'S SUMMARY JUDGMENT
MOTION OF INVALIDITY

JERUSALEM, August 29, 2011 - Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd. (NASDAQ: TEVA) announced today that the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York has issued a favorable set of claim construction rulings in the Company's patent infringement lawsuit against Sandoz Inc./Momenta Pharmaceuticals, Inc. and Mylan/Natco regarding Teva's multiple sclerosis (MS) product, Copaxone®. The Court adopted all relevant Teva claim construction interpretations and rejected all of the claim construction interpretations put forth by Sandoz/Momenta and Mylan/Natco. In addition, the Court denied Mylan's motion for summary judgment that the patents at issue are invalid for indefiniteness.

A claim construction decision involves a U.S. District Court examining evidence from all parties on the appropriate meanings of relevant words used in a patent claim. The Court's interpretations of these claims terms impact the assessment of infringement and validity.

Teva is pleased with the Court's decision and awaits the start of a trial on September 7, 2011.

Teva's Safe Harbor Statement under the U. S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995:

This release contains forward-looking statements, which express the current beliefs and expectations of management. Such statements are based on management's current beliefs and expectations and involve a number of known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause our future results, performance or achievements to differ significantly from the results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include risks relating to: our ability to successfully develop and commercialize additional pharmaceutical products, the introduction of competing generic equivalents, the extent to which we may obtain U.S. market exclusivity for certain of our new generic products and regulatory changes that may prevent us from utilizing exclusivity periods, potential liability for sales of generic products prior to a final resolution of outstanding patent litigation, including that relating to the generic version of Protonix®; the extent to which any manufacturing or quality control problems damage our reputation for high quality production, the effects of competition on sales of our innovative products, especially Copaxone® (including potential generic and oral competition for Copaxone®), the impact of continuing consolidation of our distributors and customers, our ability to identify, consummate and successfully integrate acquisitions (including the acquisition of Cephalon), interruptions in our supply chain or problems with our information technology systems that adversely affect our complex manufacturing processes, intense competition in our specialty pharmaceutical businesses, any failures to comply with the complex Medicare and Medicaid reporting and payment obligations, our exposure to currency fluctuations and restrictions as well as credit risks, the effects of reforms in healthcare regulation, adverse effects of political or economical instability, major hostilities or acts of terrorism on our significant worldwide operations, increased government scrutiny in both the U.S. and Europe of our agreements with brand companies, dependence on the effectiveness of our patents and other protections for innovative products, our ability to achieve expected results through our innovative R&D efforts, the difficulty of predicting U.S. Food and Drug Administration, European Medicines Agency and other regulatory authority approvals, uncertainties surrounding the legislative and regulatory pathway for the registration and approval of biotechnology-based products, potentially significant impairments of intangible assets and goodwill, potential increases in tax liabilities resulting from challenges to our intercompany arrangements, our potential exposure to product liability claims to the extent not covered by insurance, the termination or expiration of governmental programs or tax benefits, current economic conditions, any failure to retain key personnel or to attract additional executive and managerial talent, environmental risks and other factors that are discussed in our Annual Report on Form 20-F and other filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
