P. H. GLATFELTER COMPANY
PROXY STATEMENT

The accompanying proxy is being solicited by the Board of Directors (the Board) of P. H. Glatfelter Company (the Company), 96 South George Street, Suite 500, York, Pennsylvania 17401, in connection with the 2006 Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Company (the Annual Meeting or Meeting) to be held on Wednesday, April 26, 2006 at 10:00 AM, 334 Carlisle Avenue, York, Pennsylvania, in the White Rose Room. This proxy statement and the accompanying proxy card are being mailed to the Company's shareholders on or about March 21, 2006.

ABOUT THE MEETING

What is the purpose of the Annual Meeting?

At the Annual Meeting, shareholders will consider and act upon the following items:

the election of three members of the Board of Directors to serve for three-year terms expiring in 2009; and such other business as may properly come before the Meeting.

In addition, following the Meeting the Company's management will report on the Company's business during the year ended December 31, 2005, and respond to questions from shareholders.

Who is entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting?

Only holders of record of the Company's common stock at the close of business on the record date, March 1, 2006, are entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the Meeting. Each holder of the Company's common stock is entitled to one vote per share owned of record on all business presented at the Meeting, except that shareholders have cumulative voting rights with respect to electing Directors. Cumulative voting means that each shareholder is entitled to as many votes in electing Directors as is equal to the number of his or her shares of common stock multiplied by the number of Directors to be elected. A shareholder may cast all such votes for a single nominee or may distribute them between two or more nominees as he or she sees fit. The persons named in the accompanying proxy card as proxy holders will vote the shares as designated by the shareholder, including any exercise of cumulative voting rights through the distribution of votes among the nominees as indicated on the proxy card. Absent such designation, the proxy holders may use their discretionary authority to vote as they see fit, including to vote cumulatively.

How do I vote?

If you complete and properly sign the accompanying proxy card and return it to the Company, it will be voted as you specify. If you are a holder of record of the Company's common stock on the record date and attend the Meeting in person, you may deliver your completed proxy card or vote in person at the Meeting. Judges of election appointed by the Company will count the votes.

What constitutes a quorum?

A quorum is necessary to permit a particular matter to be considered and acted upon at the Meeting. The presence at the Meeting, in person or by proxy, of shareholders entitled to cast at least a majority of the votes that all shareholders are entitled to cast on a particular matter will constitute a quorum for the purposes of such matter. Abstentions and broker non-votes are counted as present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining a quorum. A broker non-vote occurs when a nominee holding shares for a beneficial owner does not vote on a particular proposal because the nominee does not have discretionary voting power with respect to that item and has not received instructions from the beneficial owner.

The Company had 44,233,059 shares of common stock outstanding on the record date.

What vote is required to elect a Director and to approve a proposal assuming there is a quorum?

Election of Directors. The three nominees for Director receiving the highest number of votes cast by shareholders will be elected to serve on the Board. Votes withheld (or abstentions) with respect to the election of a Director will not be voted with respect to such Director; accordingly, votes withheld will have no direct effect on the result of the vote, unless the withheld vote is cast for another nominee. Broker non-votes are not counted for purposes of the election of Directors.

How does discretionary voting authority apply?

If you sign and return the accompanying proxy card, but do not make any selections, you give discretionary authority to the persons named as proxy holders on the proxy card. Your shares will then be voted as recommended by the Board.

What is the Board's recommendation?

The Board recommends a vote:

FOR election of its three nominees for Director, George H. Glatfelter II, Ronald J. Naples and Richard L. Smoot.

Can I change my vote after I return my proxy card?

Yes. Even after you have submitted your proxy card, you may revoke your proxy and change your vote at any time before the proxy is exercised by filing with the Company's Secretary either a notice of revocation or a duly executed proxy bearing a later date. Your authorization of the proxy holders to vote your proxy will be revoked if you attend the Annual Meeting in person and request to change your vote, vote in person or revoke your proxy. Attendance at the Meeting will not by itself revoke a previously granted proxy.

Who bears the cost of solicitation of proxies?

The Company bears the cost of preparing, printing, assembling and mailing this proxy statement and other Board proxy solicitation materials. The Company will also reimburse brokers and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for forwarding proxy and solicitation materials to the owners of the Company's common stock. In addition to the solicitation of proxies by mail, some of the officers and other employees of the Company may solicit proxies personally, by telephone and by other means. These persons receive no special compensation for any solicitation activities.

When are shareholder proposals due for inclusion in the proxy statement for the 2007 Annual Meeting of Shareholders?

Proposals that a shareholder would like to present at the 2007 meeting must be submitted to the Company prior to the preparation of the annual proxy statement. To be included in the proxy statement for the Company's 2007 Annual Meeting, shareholder proposals must be submitted in writing to the Company's Secretary no later than November 21, 2006. The Company's By-laws prescribe the procedures shareholders must follow to bring business before shareholder meetings. To bring matters before the 2007 Annual Meeting, under the terms of the Company's By-laws, and to include a matter in the Company's proxy statement and proxy for that meeting, notice must be received by the Company within the time limit described above. Such notice must meet the Company's By-law requirements, and otherwise comply with the requirements of Rule 14a-8 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act). Copies of the Company's By-laws may be obtained free of charge from the Secretary of the Company. No shareholder proposals were submitted to the Company for presentation at the 2006 Annual Meeting.

How can a shareholder nominate Director candidates?

You may recommend nominees for consideration by the Board's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee for nomination for election to the Board. Shareholder recommendations for director nominees will receive the same consideration by the Board's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee that all other nominations receive. Shareholders wishing to recommend a nominee for director should submit such recommendation in writing, along with any supporting materials the shareholder deems appropriate, to the Secretary of the Company.

You may nominate a person for election to the Board, provided the recommendation is made in accordance with the procedures described herein and the Company's By-laws. To nominate a candidate for Director at the 2007 Annual Meeting, your notice of the nomination must be received by the Company's Secretary no later than November 21, 2006. The notice must describe various matters regarding the nominee, including name, address, occupation and Company shares held, all as provided by the Company's By-laws. Copies of the relevant sections of the By-laws may be obtained free of charge from the Secretary of the Company.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors and management of the Company are dedicated to good corporate governance. The Board has adopted Governance Principles to provide a framework for governance of the Company. These Governance Principles are set forth in full on the Company's website at www.glatfelter.com/e/govprinciples.htm and available in print upon request directed to the Corporate Secretary's Office, 96 South George Street, Suite 500, York, PA 17401-1434.

What is the composition of the Board?

The Board currently consists of eight members. In the Company's Governance Principles, the Board has adopted the NYSE standards for determining the independence of Directors, which requires that a Director does not have a material relationship with the Company.

The Board has determined the following Directors to be independent and not to have any material relationship with the Company: Ms. Dahlberg and Messrs. DeBenedictis, Hall, III, Naples and Smoot. The Board determined that Mr. Glatfelter has a material relationship with the Company because he is the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer. The Board also determined that Mr. Stewart does not currently meet the independence requirements because of a previous consulting arrangement with the Company, which terminated in the first quarter of 2003. Thus, Messrs. Glatfelter and Stewart are deemed not to be independent Directors by NYSE standards and the Company's Governance Principles. It is expected Mr. Stewart will satisfy the independence requirements beginning in the second quarter of 2006.

What committees has the Board established?

The Company's Board of Directors has four standing committees: the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee, the Finance Committee, and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. The Board appoints the members of all of these standing committees and their Chairpersons at its organizational meeting following the Company's Annual Meeting.

The Board has adopted a written charter for its standing committees, all of which are posted on the Company's website at www.glatfelter.com/e/govcommittees.htm, and available in print upon request directed to the Corporate Secretary's Office, 96 South George Street, Suite 500, York, PA 17401-1434. The Charters for the Audit Committee and Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee were attached as Appendices A and B, respectively, to the Company's 2005 Proxy Statement and remain unchanged, having both been reaffirmed by the Board on March 8,

Audit Committee. The Audit Committee currently consists of four Directors: Messrs. DeBenedictis (Chair), Hall, III and Naples. In the opinion of the Board, all four Audit Committee members meet the Director independence requirements set forth in the listing standards of the NYSE and the applicable rules and regulations of the SEC in effect on the date this proxy statement is first mailed to shareholders. The Board has determined that, based on their experience, Messrs. DeBenedictis, Hall, III and Naples are audit committee financial experts, as that term is defined in the applicable SEC regulations. The functions of, and additional information about, the Audit Committee are set forth in the Report of the Audit Committee below. The Audit Committee held twelve meetings during 2005.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

How are Directors compensated?

2005 Base Compensation. Directors receive an annual retainer fee of $22,000 two thirds of which consist of shares of the Company's common stock with a market value on the grant date, with the balance paid in cash. In addition to the annual retainer, non-employee Directors are paid $1,500 for attendance at the annual Board retreat and $1,000 for every Board and committee meeting they attend. Non-employee Directors serving as committee chairpersons are paid an additional $4,000 (paid in cash) annually for their service. In addition, each non-employee Director receives an annual restricted stock unit award valued at $15,500 on the grant date and that will vest over a three-year period. As with the prior Director compensation program, all accrued, but unpaid, Director cash compensation payments are made on each May 1st and November 1st.

Deferred Compensation. Pursuant to the Company's Deferred Compensation Plan for Directors (the Deferred Compensation Plan), every year each Director may elect to defer 50%, 75% or 100% of his or her annual retainer paid to such Director for serving on the Board, but not including any fees paid to a Director for attending meetings of the Board or any committee of the Board or for serving as a chairperson of a committee of the Board. No such elections were made with respect to fees earned in 2005.

For previous deferral elections, the Company has credited a deferred fee account with phantom shares of the Company's common stock (stock units) on the date the retainer would otherwise have been paid. The number of stock units credited to a Director's deferred account is the amount of the deferred fee divided by the fair market value of the Company's common stock on such date. Additional stock units are credited to each Director's account when dividends are paid on the Company's common stock as of any such dividend payment date. A Director will be entitled to receive a cash payment equal to the amount credited to his or her account following termination of such Director's service on the Board.

Benefits. Each non-employee Director is covered by the Company's Directors and officers' liability insurance, as well as the Company's travel accident insurance.

EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT PLANS AND PENSION PLAN TABLESWhat employee retirement plans has the Company established for Directors and Executive Officers?

The following table identifies the employee retirement plans in which each named executive officer participates.

D. C. Parrini	X	X	X

Pension Plans. Executive officers and Directors who are full-time employees of the Company participate in the P. H. Glatfelter Company Retirement Plan for Salaried Employees (the Pension Plan). Benefits payable under the Pension Plan are based upon years of service and average annual compensation for the five consecutive calendar years during the ten years preceding the year of retirement that yield the highest average. Retirement benefits under the Pension Plan are not subject to any deduction for Social Security benefits. Annual compensation for purposes of the Pension Plan generally includes salary as listed in the Summary Compensation Table plus bonus listed in the Summary Compensation Table for the prior year. To the extent deferral of an award under the Company's Management Incentive Plan causes a reduction in a participant's pension under the Pension Plan, a pension supplement (the MIP Adjustment Supplement) will be paid from the Company's Supplemental Management Pension Plan.

Mr. Ruckenbrod is covered by a separate defined benefit retirement pension plan provided for under the Retirement Pension Agreement between Mr. Ruckenbrod and S&H Verwaltungsgesellschaft mbH, a German subsidiary of the Company, effective January 1, 2000. The Retirement Pension Agreement provides for a retirement benefit equal to 1.286% of Mr. Ruckenbrod's average pensionable salary (which includes base salary and bonuses paid under the Management Incentive Plan) during the last five years of his employment period for each year of service.

Mr. Ruckenbrod's Retirement Pension Agreement is governed by German law and as such benefits thereunder are not subject to any deduction for Social Security benefits.

Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan. The Company has a Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (SERP) consisting of two benefits, either or both of which are available to those management and executive employees who have been selected by the Company's Compensation Committee for participation therein. The first benefit, known as the Restoration Pension, provides an additional pension benefit based on the participant's pension benefit earned under the terms of the Pension Plan, which is intended to restore that portion of the Pension Plan's benefit that cannot be paid from that Plan due to legal limitations on the compensation and total benefits payable thereunder. Participants may receive the Restoration Pension in a single sum or in any form permitted under the Pension Plan, as elected by the participant at the time he or she first becomes a participant.

The second benefit, known as the FAC Pension, pays a monthly pension benefit equal to a designated percentage of the participant's final average compensation (as defined below), offset by the actuarially equivalent value of the participant's benefits under the Pension Plan and certain Company-sponsored nonqualified defined benefit pension arrangements, including (if applicable) the Restoration Pension. The designated percentage is 2% multiplied by the participant's years of credited service under the Pension Plan, but not in excess of 55%. The FAC Pension is payable following the participant's retirement at or after age 62 in the form of a joint and 75% survivor annuity with the participant's spouse or, if so requested by the participant and approved by the Company's Compensation Committee, as a single sum. The FAC Pension can also be paid on an early retirement basis as early as age 55, but reduced by 2.5% for each year by which the early benefit commencement precedes the participant's attainment of age 62. A survivor benefit is also payable under the FAC Pension to the participant's surviving spouse if the participant dies before his or her benefit commencement date. Final average compensation means the annualized average of the participant's eligible compensation for the sixty (60) calendar months immediately preceding his or her retirement, which generally means the salary and bonus amounts listed in the Summary Compensation Table.

What are the estimated annual retirement benefits of the Company's executives?

The following table shows the estimated annual retirement benefits, payable in the form of a joint and 75% survivor annuity beginning at age 62, to those executives who are eligible for the FAC Pension under the SERP. This benefit consists of the sum of the executive's Pension Plan benefits and the additional amount necessary to yield the benefit calculated under the FAC Pension.

The following executive officers who participate in the U.S. Pension Plan had the indicated credited years of service on December 31, 2005: Mr. Glatfelter 30 years and Mr. Parrini 9 years.

As of December 31, 2005 Messrs. van Roden and Jacunski are not eligible for the FAC Pension and therefore are entitled to receive a pension determined under the Pension Plan, together with, as applicable, the Restoration Pension and the MIP Adjustment Supplement. However, on December 31, 2005, they had not yet fulfilled the five year vesting requirement under the Company's pension plans.

The following table shows the estimated annual retirement benefits to Mr. Ruckenbrod, who participates in a different pension plan than the executives based in the United States.

Mr. Ruckenbrod is entitled to receive a full lifetime pension benefit starting with his 62nd birthday, or (if earlier) upon his incapacity to perform his job. Mr. Ruckenbrod is also entitled to a reduced pension as early as age 55. The unreduced amounts shown above would be reduced by 2.5% for each year that he retired before age 62. In the event of Mr. Ruckenbrod's death, his spouse shall continue to receive 60% of the pension benefit (provided they had been married for five years). The pension plan also provides for benefits in the event of Mr. Ruckenbrod's death before reaching retirement. Annual compensation for purposes of this pension plan generally includes salary as listed in the Summary Compensation Table plus bonus listed in the Summary Compensation Table for the prior year. Mr. Ruckenbrod has 21 years of service credited under this pension plan, as of December 31, 2005.

EMPLOYMENT, TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT AND CHANGE-IN-CONTROL AGREEMENTS
Has the Company entered into any employment contracts with any of the named executive officers or with any material consequence?

Mr. Ruckenbrod has an employment agreement with S&H Verwaltungsgesellschaft mbH, a German subsidiary of the Company, effective January 1, 2000. The employment agreement established Mr. Ruckenbrod's initial base salary at DM 310,000, subject to annual adjustments. Using the irrevocable conversion rate utilized to convert Deutschemarks to Euros () during Germany's transition to the new currency, this amounted to 164,843. (Applying the average annual conversion rate for the year 2005 to Mr. Ruckenbrod's 2000 base salary to enable a comparison with the Summary Compensation Table above, this initial base salary amounted to $205,230.) In addition to customary health and welfare benefits, the agreement provides for Mr. Ruckenbrod's use of a Company-owned car, up to one year of paid disability benefits (net of insurance payments) and a severance benefit equal to twelve months' base salary following his termination by the Company without cause. The employment agreement expires at the end of the month in which Mr. Ruckenbrod reaches age 65.

What change-in-control agreements has the Company executed?

The Company has entered into Change-in-Control Employment Agreements with each of Messrs. Glatfelter, van Roden, Parrini, Ruckenbrod, and Jacunski, along with three other executives. Under the agreements, each employee will become entitled to additional payments and benefits if his employment is terminated under certain conditions within two years following a change in control (as defined in the agreements) of the Company. Under the agreements, each employee's employment with the Company will continue for two years from the date of a change in control. During such period, the employee shall continue in the position he held prior to the change in control and shall receive compensation and benefits from the Company at least equal to those paid to him prior to the change in control. The foregoing agreements provide that if, within two years following a change in control, the employee's employment is terminated by the Company other than for cause, death or disability, or is terminated by the employee for good reason (each as defined in the agreements), he will receive his then current base salary through the date of termination, plus a lump sum payment, payable within thirty days after the date of termination, representing certain severance benefits (in lieu of further salary payments and in lieu of any severance benefits otherwise payable by the Company). The severance benefits under the agreements consist of: (i) a pro-rated bonus for the year in which the date of termination occurs, on the basis of the target bonus under the Management Incentive Plan; (ii) an amount equal to two times (three times in the case of Mr. Glatfelter) (a) the employee's annual base salary (at the highest rate achieved in the 90-day period through and including the date of termination) plus (b) his annual bonus for the last full fiscal year before the date of termination; (iii) continued health, disability and life insurance coverage for two years (three years in the case of Mr. Glatfelter) at substantially similar levels of coverage, or at the Company's option, payment to the executive of an amount equal to the Company's cost of providing such benefits; (iv) compensation for certain unvested retirement benefits; (v) for participants in the Company's Supplemental Management Pension Plan with at least five years of vesting service, a contribution of funds, under certain circumstances, by the Company to the trust serving as the funding vehicle for the plan; and (vi) full vesting and payout under all deferred compensation plans, if any. The agreements also provide that if any payment by the Company results in excise tax under the Internal Revenue Code, then the employee is entitled to a gross-up payment so that the net amount he retains will be equal to his payment less ordinary and normal taxes (but not less the excise tax).

The agreements also provide that if the employee's employment is terminated by the Company for cause, death or disability, or is terminated by the employee (including voluntary retirement) without good reason, in lieu of the severance benefits above, such employee will receive a lump sum cash payment of his then current base salary through the date of termination, together with all compensation and benefits to which he is entitled under the Company's benefit plans for periods preceding the date of termination.

The agreements further provide that if any payment or benefit to an employee, whether pursuant to the agreements or otherwise, is subject to the excise tax imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code), on excess parachute payments, then an additional payment will be made to such employee so that the amount he receives on a net basis will be the same amount that he would have received absent the applicability of the excise tax.

REPORT OF COMPENSATION COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

What are the responsibilities of the Company's Compensation Committee?

In accordance with its Board-approved charter, the Compensation Committee is responsible for discharging the Board's duties related to compensation of the Company's executives and also reviews, recommends for approval by the Board and oversees the Company's management incentive and equity-based incentive compensation plans, defined benefit and contribution plans, and other welfare benefit plans. In addition to, or in furtherance of, the Compensation Committee's functions described above, the Compensation Committee:

recommends to the Board an executive compensation policy that is designed to support overall business strategies and objectives, attract and retain key executives, link compensation with business objectives and organizational performance, align executives' interests with those of the Company's shareholders and provide reasonable and competitive compensation opportunities;

reviews and approves periodically a general compensation policy and salary structure for executives and other key employees of the Company and its subsidiaries, which considers business and financial objectives, industry and labor market best practices and such other information as it may deem appropriate;

annually reviews and recommends to the independent members of the Board corporate goals and objectives relevant to the compensation of the Chief Executive Officer (the CEO), and manages and executes the evaluation process conducted by the independent members of the Board of the CEO in light of these goals and objectives; reviews and recommends to the independent members of the Board the CEO's compensation, including salary, bonus, and other incentive and equity-based compensation, based on the evaluation of the CEO's performance;

reviews and approves annually, with the CEO's involvement, the salaries and equity-based grants, as well as discretionary cash awards, for the Company's non-CEO executives;

establishes individual target award levels for incentive compensation payments to the Company's non-CEO executives, in relation to Board-established financial target(s) or other performance measures for such incentive compensation, recommends to the Board whether such financial target(s) or other performance measures have been achieved, and approves the payment of incentive compensation upon Board determination that such targets or measures have been met;

prepares the annual report to shareholders on the compensation of the Company's CEO and other executives; and reviews and recommends to the Board any modifications of the non-employee Directors' compensation program.

The Compensation Committee has the authority to engage independent compensation consultants, legal counsel or advisors, as it may deem appropriate in its sole discretion, and to approve related fees and retention terms of such consultants, counsel, or advisors, and routinely holds executive sessions without management.

The Compensation Committee from time to time reviews the Company's entire executive compensation structure through an examination of compensation information for comparable companies and certain broader-based market data, compiled by an independent compensation consultant. The group of comparable companies, including certain companies against which the Company competes with its products, companies from the broader paper industry, packaging companies, and companies from which the Company recruits senior executives, including other companies headquartered in south central Pennsylvania, is developed by the Committee's compensation consultant and approved by the Committee. The companies that comprise the Peer Group in the Stock Performance Chart below are the Company's industry-based comparable companies and as such are included in the group of comparable companies for the review of comparable executive compensation.

What is the Board's philosophy regarding executive compensation?

The Compensation Committee has generally structured the Company's executive compensation program to (i) target the 50th percentile of the market of comparable companies in order to be competitive with its compensation programs and to enable the Company to attract, retain and motivate a highly qualified executive management team, (ii) provide a significant portion of variable-based compensation that is contingent upon objectively measured performance to align executive officers' interests with those of the Company's shareholders, and (iii) include appropriate and flexible design features in such programs that will be responsive to the characteristics of the paper industry and to the changing needs of the Company.

From time to time, the Compensation Committee solicits the advice of consulting firms to evaluate the Company's executive compensation program in order to ensure that such program is reasonable and competitive with compensation programs of the comparable companies. In 2005, the Committee engaged an independent compensation consulting firm to assist the Compensation Committee in its review of compensation for executives. In particular, the Compensation Committee considered a competitive market compensation analysis for all executive positions, prepared by the compensation consultant, which analyzed executive compensation at the comparable companies.

What are the components of executive compensation?

The Compensation Committee has reviewed the aggregate compensation and the components thereof of the Company's executives, including, in particular, the compensation of the CEO. Based upon that review, the Compensation Committee believes that such compensation is reasonable, competitive and in the best interests of the Company's shareholders. The compensation package for the Company's executives includes the following components:

Base Salary. The Company's policy is to pay competitive salaries at levels that are sufficient to attract and retain high-caliber individuals, based on the relative value of each position as measured against the comparable companies. The Company targets its executive base salaries at the 50th percentile of the market range for the respective assignments. To perform this task, the Compensation Committee assigns each executive position a salary, including a range and a midpoint, based on the comparison to competitive market levels for the executive's job function at the comparable companies.

Executive base salaries are reviewed and approved annually (typically in the first quarter of the calendar year) and the Compensation Committee sets the salary for each executive after an assessment of his or her individual performance, overall corporate performance, as well as competitive and internal equitable considerations. Salaries and ranges may be further adjusted by the Compensation Committee in the interim on the basis of corporate performance, as well as competitive considerations and individual performance. On February 28, 2005, salary adjustments for the Company's executives ranging from 0% to 12.0% were approved. Such adjustments reflect the Compensation Committee's assessment of individual performance, achievement of business objectives, a market analysis conducted by an independent compensation consultant for the executive's position and relative salary compared to market reference points, performance of the business, and the Committee's desire to retain leadership skills necessary to execute the Company's business strategy in North America and Europe.

Management Incentive Plan. Another component of executive compensation utilized by the Compensation Committee is incentive-based cash bonus awards under the Company's Management Incentive Plan. The Management Incentive Plan, administered by the Compensation Committee, is designed to encourage executives and other eligible key employees to increase the profitability of the Company and to reward them for doing so through an annual cash bonus. The Company targets its annual incentive bonus awards under the Management Incentive Plan at the 50th percentile of the annual incentive bonus for executive officers of the comparable companies for target level performance. The Company's Management Incentive Plan seeks to assure that incentive bonus awards are at risk annually, to reward eligible executives and key employees on the basis of corporate financial results on an annual basis, and to provide an incentive bonus award that is competitive for each position with that of the comparable companies. These incentive bonus opportunities are set annually, potentially represent a significant portion of total compensation and are intended to correspond to the financial performance of the Company for the applicable year.

For fiscal year 2005, the Committee established a single performance metric of Net Operating Income (excluding after-tax pension income and unusual, non-recurring items) as the benchmark for payment of bonuses under the Management Incentive Plan. The Committee established threshold, target and maximum Net Operating Income objectives for the Management Incentive Plan. The award of incentive bonuses to be paid to executives is dependent on the extent of achievement of such objectives. Unless the threshold Net Operating Income is attained, there will be no payout under the Management Incentive Plan. In 2005, the threshold Net Operating Income was not achieved and, consequently, no bonuses were paid to executives under the Management Incentive Plan.

A new Management Incentive Plan was approved, on the Compensation Committee's recommendation, by the Board in March 2005 and by the Company's shareholders in April 2005 (the 2005 Management Incentive Plan). Beginning with awards for fiscal year 2006, the 2005 Management Incentive Plan approved by the shareholders will replace the Company's former Management Incentive Plan.

Discretionary Compensation. The Compensation Committee may approve additional compensation, including limited discretionary bonuses, to any executive for performance, for retention purposes, or to serve any other corporate objective, based upon amounts budgeted by the Board for such purposes. In March 2006, discretionary bonuses in recognition of individual performance during 2005, were granted to a limited number of executives ranging from 5% to 35% of base salary.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation. Long-term incentive compensation is a key component of the compensation of the Company's executives. Long-term incentive compensation awards are designed to retain executives and to focus executives' attention on the long-term performance of the business, while recognizing that the cyclical nature of paper industry can impact short-term incentive compensation. In addition, equity-based awards directly align the executives' financial interests with those of the Company's shareholders. In general, the Company targets the value of its long-term incentive grants at the 50th percentile of the long-term incentive compensation for executive officers of the comparable companies.

The executives of the Company receive long-term incentives under the Company's 1992 Key-Employee Long-Term Incentive Plan (the 1992 Plan) and the Company's 2005 Long-Term Incentive Plan (the 2005 Plan), both of which are administered by the Compensation Committee. Upon shareholder approval in April 2005, the 2005 Plan replaced the 1992 Plan. No further grants have been, or will be, made under 1992 Plan.

Both the 1992 Plan and the 2005 Plan enable the Company to offer eligible employees equity interests in the Company and other incentive awards, including performance-based stock incentives and cash awards. The long-term incentives available under the plans are similar to long-term incentives offered by many of the comparable companies.

Restricted Stock Units. A form of long-term incentive compensation that the Committee routinely utilizes in compensating senior management is restricted stock units. Restricted stock units create strong incentives for executives to maximize shareholder value and, at the same time, provide an incentive to employees that have been awarded them to remain through the full vesting date. These restricted stock units vest in a staggered fashion, with one-third of the units vesting on each December 31st of the second, third, and fourth year after they are granted. During this period, employees who have been awarded the restricted stock units will receive payment of cash dividends on all units awarded, whether or not they have vested. During 2005, a total of 102,500 restricted stock units were awarded to executives, 82,900 of which were awarded under the 1992 Plan prior to shareholder approval of the 2005 Plan and 19,600 of which were awarded under the 2005 Plan. All of the restricted stock units granted to executives in 2005 had substantially similar terms.

Performance Cash Program. Another long-term incentive compensation element utilized is the performance cash program for executives and other members of senior management, which was implemented by the Board under the 1992 Plan in 2004. This program provides an additional cash incentive to executives and other members of senior management, recognizing that the Management Incentive Plan may not provide short term incentives due to Company's performance in a given year. Under the current program, performance cash awards will be paid to program participants if the Company achieves a preset financial target by the end of 2009. The financial target was established by the Board and is an estimate of three-year cumulative Net Operating Income (excluding after tax pension income and unusual, non-recurring items). Upon achieving the financial target, the participants will receive an individual cash award, the amount of which varies by their position, and the Board may then consider establishing a new program and target. If the target is not met by the end of 2009, the program will be cancelled and the Board may consider establishing a new program and target. The target was not met in 2005.

Total Shareholder Return Program. Performance cash awards and performance share awards were granted under the 1992 Plan to certain executives by the Committee in December 2002, the payment and vesting, respectively, of which were based on the Company's achieving a threshold level of total shareholder return for the three-year period that ended December 31, 2005 relative to the total shareholder returns at the comparable companies for the same three-year period. Final performance cash awards could range from 50% of pre-established target cash awards if the threshold level of total shareholder return was achieved up to 150% of the target amounts if the Company achieved the maximum level of total shareholder return. Participants in the program could receive from 50% of pre-established target share awards upon achievement of the threshold level of total shareholder return up to a maximum of 100% of target share awards if the target level of total shareholder return was achieved. The Company's total shareholder return for the three-year period ended December 31, 2005 was at the 54th percentile, above the target level, and participants in the program received cash payouts at 108% of their respective target cash awards, ranging from $27,605 to $258,984, and 100% of the target performance share awards, ranging from 760 to 11,350 shares of stock. In addition, participants received cash payouts representing dividends on the shares during the performance period, ranging from $1,014 to $15,150.

How is the Company addressing Internal Revenue Code limits on the deductibility of compensation?

The Compensation Committee has adopted practices such that, where appropriate, certain awards made under the 2005 Long-Term Incentive Plan and the 2005 Management Incentive Plan will qualify as performance-based compensation that will be deductible for federal income tax purposes under Section 162(m) of the Code. However, in order to design long-term compensation programs that provide the utmost flexibility, the Company has not established a policy that mandates that all compensation must be deductible under Section 162(m).

How is the Company's Chief Executive Officer compensated?

For 2005, Mr. Glatfelter's compensation consisted of base salary, participation in the Management Incentive Plan and long-term incentive compensation.

Effective February 1, 2005, Mr. Glatfelter's annual salary was increased to $530,200, or 10%. The Compensation Committee recommended and the independent members of the Board approved the increase based upon a review of Mr. Glatfelter's total compensation, recognizing that Mr. Glatfelter's salary was significantly below the median salary of chief executive officers at the comparable companies, he had not received a salary increase since 2002, and the Company had successfully addressed challenging operational issues while continuing to remain profitable despite difficult industry conditions.

Mr. Glatfelter did not receive a bonus under the Management Incentive Plan for 2005 because the threshold for Net Operating Income was not achieved. However, he was awarded a $25,000 discretionary bonus, or 5% of base salary, reflecting individual performance.

On March 3, 2005, Mr. Glatfelter was awarded 28,300 restricted stock units under the 1992 Plan in connection with the Company's long-term incentive program established in 2004, which were set at a level, when combined with the annualized value of the multi-year performance cash program described below, to position Mr. Glatfelter's total long-term incentive compensation at approximately the 50th percentile of the total long-term incentive compensation of chief executive officers of the comparable companies. The restricted stock units vest in a staggered fashion, with one-third of the units vesting on each December 31st of the second, third, and fourth year after they are awarded.

In 2004, the Board established a multi-year performance cash program target of $630,000 for Mr. Glatfelter under the 1992 Plan. No further grants under the performance cash program will be made until this grant either pays out or expires. This target is subject to the terms and criteria identified under the discussion above regarding the performance cash program for the executives and other members of senior management. As discussed above, the financial target was not achieved in 2005.

Performance cash awards and performance share awards were granted to Mr. Glatfelter by the Committee in December 2002, the payment and vesting, respectively, of which were based on the Company achieving, at the end of a three-year period that ended December 31, 2005, certain specified levels of total shareholder return relative to total shareholder returns at the comparable companies, as described above. Based on the Company's total shareholder return performance, Mr. Glatfelter received a cash payout of $258,984, representing 108% of his target cash award and 11,350 shares of stock, representing 100% of his target share award. In addition, Mr. Glatfelter received a cash payout of $15,150 representing dividends on the shares during the performance period. The total amount earned by the CEO is shown in the "LTIP Payouts" column of the Summary Compensation Table, and related footnotes, included in this Proxy Statement.
