Starboard Value and Opportunity Master Fund Ltd

March 15, 2019

Dear Fellow Bristol-Myers Squibb Company Stockholders:

The attached proxy statement and the enclosed BLUE proxy card are being furnished to you, the stockholders of Bristol-Myers Squibb Company, a Delaware corporation (“Bristol-Myers” or the “Company”), in connection with the solicitation of proxies by Starboard Value and Opportunity Master Fund Ltd (together with its affiliates, “Starboard” or “we”) to oppose the merger of Celgene Corporation (“Celgene”) with a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bristol-Myers (the “Merger”) at the special meeting of stockholders of Bristol-Myers to be held on April 12, 2019 (including any adjournments or postponements thereof, the “Special Meeting”).

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement entered into by Bristol-Myers and Celgene on January 2, 2019 (the “Merger Agreement”), if the Merger is completed, Celgene stockholders immediately prior to the completion of the Merger will be entitled to receive $50.00 in cash, one share of Bristol-Myers Squibb common stock and one contingent value right (each, a “CVR”) for each share of Celgene common stock held by them. The value of the consideration to be received by Celgene stockholders will fluctuate with changes in the price of the shares of Bristol-Myers common stock.

In order for the Merger to be completed and such merger consideration to be paid to Celgene stockholders, (i) Bristol-Myers stockholders must approve the issuance of shares of Bristol-Myers common stock in the Merger at the Special Meeting and (ii) Celgene stockholders must adopt the Merger Agreement at a separate special meeting of the stockholders of Celgene, also scheduled to be held on April 12, 2019.

We believe the Merger is ill-advised and not in the best interest of Bristol-Myers stockholders. Accordingly, pursuant to the attached proxy statement, we are soliciting proxies from holders of shares of Bristol-Myers stock to vote AGAINST the proposal being submitted at the Special Meeting for stockholders to approve the issuance of shares of Bristol-Myers common stock in connection with the Merger.

The Special Meeting is scheduled to be held on April 12, 2019 at the offices of Kirkland & Ellis LLP located at 601 Lexington Avenue, New York, New York 10022, at 10:00 a.m., Eastern Time.

We urge you to carefully consider the information contained in the attached proxy statement and then support our efforts by signing, dating and returning the enclosed BLUE proxy card today. The attached proxy statement and the enclosed BLUE proxy card are first being furnished to the stockholders on or about March 15, 2019.

If you have already voted for management’s proposals relating to the Merger, you have every right to change your vote by signing, dating and returning a later dated proxy card.

If you have any questions or require any assistance with your vote, please contact Okapi Partners LLC, which is assisting us, at its address and toll-free numbers listed below.

Thank you for your support.

We are writing to you in connection with the proposed acquisition of Celgene Corporation (“Celgene”) by Bristol-Myers (the “Merger”). In connection with the proposed Merger, Bristol-Myers entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of on January 2, 2019, with Celgene and Burgundy Merger Sub, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bristol-Myers (the “Merger Agreement”). The Board of Directors of Bristol-Myers (the “Board”) has scheduled a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of considering and voting on certain proposals relating to the proposed Merger (including any adjournments or postponements thereof, the “Special Meeting”). Starboard strongly opposes the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals because it believes the Merger is poorly conceived, ill-advised and not in the best interests of the Company's stockholders. You should refer to the information set forth under the heading "REASONS FOR THE SOLICITATION" for a more detailed explanation of Starboard's rationale for opposing the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals.

The first crucial step towards maximizing value at Bristol-Myers is voting AGAINST the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals. We believe these steps, taken together, represent an exciting opportunity for stockholders to have a direct voice in protecting the value of their investment in the Company while ensuring that management and the Board are held accountable and re-focused on exploring the best alternatives available for maximizing shareholder value.

The Company has set the close of business on March 1, 2019 as the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of and to vote at the Special Meeting (the "Record Date"). The mailing address of the principal executive offices of the Company is 430 East 29th Street, 14th Floor, New York, New York 10016. According to the Company, as of the close of business on January 24, 2019, there were 1,632,468,222.509 shares of Bristol-Myers Stock outstanding.

As of the date hereof, Starboard beneficially owns 4,430,000 shares of Common Stock. We intend to vote our Shares AGAINST the Stock Issuance Proposal.

REASONS FOR THE SOLICITATION

We Do Not Believe the Acquisition of Celgene Is in the Best Interest of Bristol-Myers Stockholders

Prior to initiating our investment in Bristol-Myers this past January, we had followed both Bristol-Myers and Celgene for a long time. Thus, we are well aware of their respective publicly-stated strategic ambitions and long-term strategies. Therefore, we were extremely surprised when the Company announced its intention to acquire Celgene for approximately $91 billion, through a combination of cash and stock, representing one of the largest ever pharmaceutical mergers.

This announcement follows years of poor financial and stock price performance at Bristol-Myers. As shown in the chart below, the Company has underperformed its direct peers over almost any time frame.

Source: Company Filings.

(1) Total returns for all periods include dividends; performance measured as of January 2, 2019 (closing price before announcement of Celgene merger).

(2) Peers based on Bristol-Myers S-4 selected publicly traded companies and includes: ABBV, AGN, AMGN, LSE:AZN, BIIB, LLY, GILD, LSE:GSK, JNJ, MRK, SWX:NOVN, CPSE:NOVO.B, PFE, SWX:ROG, ENXTPA:SAN.

These results are not reflective of a management team and Board of Directors that has earned the right, in our view, to execute on such a risky acquisition.

We have rigorously studied the proposed Merger with Celgene since the announcement in early January to better understand the perspectives of all parties involved. We have done extensive work, including independent research as well as numerous meetings and phone calls with Bristol-Myers management, in an attempt to understand the strategic and financial benefits of the proposed transaction. Unfortunately, the more work we do, the more conviction we build that the Merger is not in the best interest of stockholders.

We Believe the Company's Acquisition of One of the Largest Patent Cliffs in the History of the Pharmaceutical Industry Will Serve as a Major Overhang on Bristol-Myers Shares for Years to Come Bristol-Myers is knowingly acquiring a massive patent cliff with significant deal value concentrated in the net present value of the cash flows from one product. We believe the patent cliff caused by Celgene's key product, REVLIMID, a small molecule drug that generated approximately $9.7 billion in worldwide sales in 2018, alone will require Celgene to replace over 60% of its total revenue in the next 7 years.

Historically, pharmaceutical companies have made large acquisitions to fill gaps in their product portfolio and avoid potential patent cliffs. As biosimilars have only recently entered the pharmaceutical markets, historically patent cliffs were caused exclusively by small molecule drugs. Typically, genericization of a small molecule drug would occur rapidly, resulting in substantial revenue decline for the innovator drug. However, thus far, large molecule biologics have proven to be much more durable than small molecule drugs. As shown in the chart below, revenue erosion for large molecule drugs post-loss-of-exclusivity ("LOE") is significantly slower than that of small molecule drugs, which are easier to replicate and often experience dramatic sales declines within the first year of LOE.

Source: Company Filings.

Q0 represents the quarter prior to a product coming off-patent / losing exclusivity. We have assumed the following as Q0 for each drug: LIPITOR (Q3 2011), CRESTOR (Q1 2016), PLAVIX (Q1 2012), GLEEVEC (Q4 2015), (1) EPOGEN (Q1 2015), NEULASTA (Q3 2015), REMICADE (Q3 2016). Q8 unavailable for PLAVIX as the Company stopped reporting PLAVIX as a separate line item.

It is important to note the differences between large and small molecule drugs in terms of historical genericization because they make the proposed transaction extremely puzzling. Celgene's REVLIMID is expected to face generic competition beginning in 2022. In addition, given the rarity of such a high revenue generating small molecule drug, this represents a potentially massive opportunity for generic manufacturers. As such, numerous manufacturers are attempting to bring generic REVLIMID to market, which increases the risk that the drug faces generic competition before 2022 and/or the revenue decline is more dramatic once generic competition begins.

Unlike Celgene, we believe that Bristol-Myers possesses a much more durable product portfolio. With the exception of ELIQUIS, essentially all of the Company's other marketed products are large molecule biologics. As a result, we believe the revenue decline for Bristol-Myers' marketed products in the back-half of the next decade will be much less pronounced than peers that have a high proportion of small molecule products.

Based on our discussions with Bristol-Myers management, we understand that their base-case scenario is a decline in REVLIMID revenues of approximately 90% in 2026. Accordingly, we believe that the REVLIMID generic risk cannot be emphasized enough given this anticipated decline in REVLIMID revenues. If the Merger is approved, we believe this impending patent cliff will continue to be a massive overhang on Bristol-Myers shares – much like it has been for Celgene shares – for the foreseeable future.

We are Highly Skeptical That the Company Will Be Able to Rebuild Celgene's Entire Current Revenue Base from Celgene's Current Pipeline

We believe the Celgene pipeline is extremely risky and will continue to require significant research & development ("R&D") funding. Management's projections contemplate Celgene essentially rebuilding its entire current revenue base from its pipeline, over the next 8 years, as essentially all of Celgene's marketed products lose patent protection over this timeframe. We believe this is an aggressive assumption and may not be realistic based on historical precedents.

Per the Company's S-4 filing, management is assuming Celgene can generate base-case, risk-adjusted revenues of nearly $19 billion by 2028. However, given the known patent cliff for Celgene's marketed products, we believe that over 90% of this revenue, or approximately $17 billion, is expected to come from yet un-commercialized pipeline products. That puts an immense amount of pressure on the pipeline to perform at an extraordinarily high level, one that we believe may be exceedingly difficult to meet, especially when the task is to replace one of the top selling global drugs.

As shown in the chart below, it is common to see blockbuster drugs representing approximately 15-30% of total company revenue at LOE, but REVLIMID at 63% of revenue at LOE is essentially unheard of and poses tremendous risk, in our view.

Source: Company Filings.

Based on our analysis of the Celgene pipeline, we believe the Company's projections are extremely optimistic, especially given the most recent developments. Based on our conversations with Bristol-Myers management, we believe that the Company is attributing 60% of 2028 pipeline revenues to five near-term product launch opportunities (i.e. luspatercept, JCAR017, bb2121, fedratinib, and ozanimod), with the remainder of revenues generated by ~20 earlier-stage assets, of which greater than 60% of indications are still in Phase I development. Not surprisingly, sell-side analyst revenue projections for each of the five near-term products reveal wildly differing outlooks. In fact, as shown below, there is a $7.3 billion difference between the minimum and maximum cumulative 2028 revenue estimates for these five products.

Source: Wall Street Estimates.

However, Bristol-Myers management estimates for the five near-term product launch opportunities approximate the maximum of Wall Street analyst estimates.

Source: Wall Street Estimates, Company Investor Relations, Starboard Estimates.

(1) Estimated based on S-4 disclosure of Bristol-Myers' Celgene estimates and discussion with Company management.

Based on Celgene's most recent track record of overpromising and under-delivering on highly-touted pipeline products – specifically, the termination of GED-0301 and the refusal-to-file (“RTF”) for ozanimod – we question whether management's projections are sufficiently conservative.

For the early Celgene pipeline, details are limited. However, it is important to note, that according to Bristol-Myers' 10-K filed on February 25, 2019, 91% of Phase I studies¹ fail to reach FDA approval. Assuming similar rates of approval going forward, this means that only 2-3 of Celgene's early-stage assets will receive FDA approval. Based on various discussions with Bristol-Myers management, given that we believe Bristol-Myers is assuming that approximately 40% of 2028 Celgene pipeline revenues, or approximately $7 billion, will be generated from pipeline assets outside of the five near-term product launch opportunities, it appears that they are assuming multiple blockbuster assets. Based on historical precedent, we would have serious questions on this assumption.

It is imperative to point out that in a downside scenario, we believe Celgene's pipeline products could destroy significant stockholder value. Each product requires tremendous upfront investment, and if it does not perform in-line with expectations, the product can generate a negative net present value. For example, Celgene has not brought a new major drug to market since 2014. However, since that time, Celgene has spent a cumulative $22 billion on R&D.² So in approximately the past five years, Celgene has apparently failed to bring a single new major drug to market. However, Bristol-Myers is now assuming that going forward, the Celgene pipeline will produce a number of new major drugs at a much faster rate than previously achieved.

We Have Serious Concerns About the Diligence Process and Motivations for the Proposed Merger

Given the transformative nature of this transaction, we would have expected Bristol-Myers to undertake an exhaustive due diligence process on Celgene, particularly as it relates to the Company's analysis of the Celgene pipeline, as well as a robust analysis of all available alternatives for value maximization for its stockholders. Unfortunately, based on the timeline in Bristol-Myers' S-4, while the Company did exchange some preliminary diligence materials prior to December 2018, it appears that the Company only had two weeks of full data room access prior to announcing the proposed acquisition and it appears that no such exploration of alternatives was ever contemplated.

In addition, as shown in the annotated chart below, it appears that after a failed clinical trial of a major drug that resulted in approximately $25 billion of lost market value, Bristol-Myers became the subject of not one, but two separate shareholder activists, who were, among other things, rumored to be pressing for the Company to explore a sale. It seems that following these challenging times, Bristol-Myers began exploring an acquisition which would create such a large combined entity that any acquisition of the pro forma company would become exceedingly difficult. Nowhere in the disclosure related to the Celgene discussions, is there any mention of the idea that, before executing an acquisition of this scale, Bristol-Myers, itself, explored and more fully evaluated all strategic options to maximize value for shareholders. It therefore seems appropriate to conclude that a primary reason this transaction was pursued by Bristol-Myers was for defensive purposes.

Source: Company Filings, Press Releases.

² See Celgene's Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on February 10, 2017, Celgene's Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on February 7, 2018, and Celgene's Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the SEC on February 26, 2019.

In fact, Bristol-Myers has been rumored as a potential acquisition target for years. While these rumors have yet to amount to anything substantive, we find the timing of management's initial approach to Celgene curious. A casual observer might reasonably suspect that Bristol-Myers initiated merger discussions with Celgene in order to avoid stockholder pressure for the Company to conduct a sale process. Bristol-Myers is a premier asset in oncology, one of the most sought after therapeutic categories. This is an enviable position that we believe would garner a premium valuation if the Company were to conduct a full sale process. While we are not solely advocating for a sale of the Company, we strongly believe that management and the Board should be open to any option that maximizes value for stockholders.

We Believe there is a Better Path Forward for Bristol-Myers

The Company possesses a number of innovative assets that have pushed the boundaries of science in order to save lives. Bristol-Myers has been at the leading edge of developing immuno-oncology drugs and in the recent past has spent a higher percentage of revenue on R&D than any other major pharmaceutical company. In fact, as shown in the chart below, over the past 5 years, on average, the Company has spent almost double the percentage of revenue on R&D as peers.

Source: Company Filings, CapitalIQ.

(1) Average of annual reported financials from 2014 – 2018. Peers based on Bristol-Myers S-4 selected publicly traded companies.

Management has assured stockholders that the Company continues to be well-positioned for both the short and long-term. Unfortunately, R&D failures continue to plague the Company. Over the past five years, the Company has underperformed peers and the broader market index by approximately 40%.

In our view, the past year appears to have been particularly painful for Bristol-Myers stockholders, as key clinical trials have failed to show the desired results and the Company's future growth trajectory has been called into question.

The persistent challenges surrounding OPDIVO's never-ending quest for first-line ("1L") approval in non-small cell lung cancer ("NSCLC") has been particularly frustrating. Despite initially securing a sizeable market share advantage in the NSCLC market with OPDIVO, the Company has seen recent trial failures potentially impair peak revenue potential. As a result, Bristol-Myers' P/E ratio is now at its lowest level in years and below its peer group, despite a growing franchise and a net cash balance sheet.

- (2) Current as of 2/27/2019.

We believe that there is significant room for improvement in Bristol-Myers' margins. As previously mentioned, the Company's R&D as a percentage of revenue is the highest of its peers, resulting in EBITDA margins well below average.

While cost cutting and margin improvement is one alternative that we believe is readily available to Bristol-Myers as a standalone entity, we believe the Company's Board should be open to evaluating all alternatives to create stockholder value, including a sale of the Company. If Bristol-Myers is focused on a potential revenue cliff in its product portfolio, we believe those cliffs can be filled with targeted tuck-in acquisitions, or, alternatively, the Company can become a target for another company to further fill out their product portfolio.

The first crucial step towards maximizing value at Bristol-Myers is voting AGAINST the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals. It is important, however, for stockholders to also know that as the next step, we would seek stockholder support to elect a slate of highly-experienced and respected director candidates whom we have nominated for election at the 2019 Annual Meeting of Stockholders. We believe these steps, taken together, represent an exciting opportunity for stockholders to have a direct voice in protecting the value of their investment in the Company while ensuring that management and the Board are held accountable and re-focused on exploring the best alternatives available for maximizing shareholder value.

PROPOSAL NO. 1

STOCK ISSUANCE PROPOSAL

In connection with the Merger, you are being asked by the Company to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal. Under the Merger Agreement, and as discussed in detail in the Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, the Company is required to obtain, as a condition to the Merger, the approval of its stockholders in order to issue the shares of Common Stock to the former Celgene stockholders as consideration for the Merger. Based on the number of shares of Bristol-Myers common stock outstanding as of January 24, 2019, and the number of shares of Celgene common stock outstanding as of January 29, 2019, immediately following completion of the Merger, Bristol-Myers stockholders immediately prior to the completion of the Merger are expected to own approximately 69% of the outstanding shares of the Common Stock and former Celgene stockholders are expected to own approximately 31% of the outstanding shares of the Common Stock.

Approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal requires the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the votes cast by holders of outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers Stock at the Special Meeting and that a quorum be present.

For the reasons discussed in the “Reasons for the Solicitation” section of this Proxy Statement, we oppose the proposed Merger as we believe that the Merger is not in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. To that end, we are soliciting your proxy to vote AGAINST the Stock Issuance Proposal at the Special Meeting.

We urge you to demonstrate your opposition to the proposed Merger and to send a message to the Board that the proposed Merger is not in the best interest of Bristol-Myers stockholders by signing, dating and returning the enclosed BLUE proxy card as soon as possible.

STARBOARD urges you to vote “AGAINST” THE STOCK ISSUANCE proposal ON THE ENCLOSED BLUE PROXY CARD and intends to vote ITS shares “against” this proposal.

PROPOSAL NO. 2

ADJOURNMENT PROPOSAL

You are being asked by Bristol-Myers to approve a proposal that will give the Board authority to adjourn from time to time the Special Meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies in favor of the approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the Special Meeting to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal.

According to the Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, if the Adjournment Proposal is approved, the Special Meeting could be adjourned to any date. In addition, the Board, with or without stockholder approval, could postpone the Special Meeting before it commences, whether for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies or for other reasons.

STARBOARD urges you to vote “AGAINST” THE ADJOURNMENT proposal ON THE ENCLOSED BLUE PROXY CARD and intendS to vote ITS shares “against” this proposal.

Consequences of Defeating the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals

The approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal by Bristol-Myers stockholders is a condition to the obligations of Celgene and Bristol-Myers to complete the Merger. If the Stock Issuance Proposal is not approved by Bristol-Myers stockholders, the Merger cannot be consummated. Instead, Celgene will remain an independent public company. Under specified circumstances, Celgene and/or Bristol-Myers may be required to reimburse the other party for the expenses it incurred in connection with the Merger Agreement. For example, Bristol-Myers is required to reimburse Celgene for up to $40 million of its reasonable and out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Merger Agreement and the Merger (the “Fee Reimbursement”) if the Merger Agreement is terminated by either Bristol-Myers or Celgene due to the Bristol-Myers stockholders voting on and failing to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal at the Special Meeting. In addition, Bristol-Myers has agreed to pay Celgene a termination fee of $2.2 billion (the “Termination Fee”) if the Merger Agreement is terminated under any of the following circumstances:

by Celgene, prior to the approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal by Bristol-Myers stockholders, as a result of the Board, (i) making an adverse recommendation change or (ii) failing to publicly confirm its recommendation that Bristol-Myers stockholders approve the Stock Issuance Proposal within ten business days after a written request to do so from Celgene following the public disclosure of an Acquisition Proposal (as defined in the Merger Agreement) for Bristol-Myers;

by Celgene, prior to the approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal by Bristol-Myers stockholders, as a result of a material breach by Bristol-Myers of any of its obligations described in Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement or its obligations to call and hold the Special Meeting for the purposes of approving the Stock Issuance Proposal described in Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, and at or prior to the date of such termination, an Acquisition Proposal for Bristol-Myers has been publicly disclosed or announced, and on or prior to the first anniversary of such termination, Bristol-Myers enters into a definitive agreement, or completes a transaction, relating to an Acquisition Proposal for Bristol-Myers. However, in this instance, any references in the definition of Acquisition Proposal to 20% will be replaced by 50%;

by Bristol-Myers, prior to obtaining the approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal by Bristol-Myers stockholders, in order to enter into a definitive agreement providing for a Superior Proposal (as defined in the Merger Agreement); or by Celgene or Bristol-Myers, as a result of Bristol-Myers stockholders failing to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal at the Special Meeting and, at or prior to the Special Meeting, an Acquisition Proposal for Bristol-Myers has been publicly disclosed or announced and not publicly and irrevocably withdrawn at least four days prior to the Special Meeting, and on or prior to the first anniversary of such termination, Bristol-Myers enters into a definitive agreement, or completes a transaction, relating to an Acquisition Proposal for Bristol-Myers. However, in this instance, any references in the definition of Acquisition Proposal to 20% will be replaced by 50%.

If the Merger Agreement is terminated by either Bristol-Myers or Celgene as a result of the Bristol-Myers stockholders voting on and failing to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal at the Special Meeting, then Bristol-Myers will pay Celgene the Fee Reimbursement. If the Termination Fee is payable by Bristol-Myers after the time Bristol-Myers pays the Fee Reimbursement, the amount of the Termination Fee will be reduced by the Fee Reimbursement.

The approval of the Adjournment Proposal is not a condition to the obligations of Celgene or Bristol-Myers to complete the Merger.

VOTING AND PROXY PROCEDURES

According to Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, holders of Common Stock and the Preferred Stock vote together as a single class on all matters at the Special Meeting. Only stockholders of record on the Record Date will be entitled to notice of and to vote at the Special Meeting. Each share of Bristol-Myers Stock is entitled to one vote. Stockholders who sell shares of Bristol-Myers Stock before the Record Date (or acquire them without voting rights after the Record Date) may not vote such shares of Bristol-Myers Stock. Stockholders of record on the Record Date will retain their voting rights in connection with the Special Meeting even if they sell such shares of Bristol-Myers Stock after the Record Date.

Shares of Bristol-Myers Stock represented by properly executed BLUE proxy cards will be voted at the Special Meeting as marked and, in the absence of specific instructions, will be voted AGAINST the Stock Issuance Proposal and AGAINST the Adjournment Proposal, and, in the discretion of the persons named as proxies, on all other matters as may properly come before the Special Meeting.

QUORUM; BROKER NON-VOTES; DISCRETIONARY VOTING

The presence at the Special Meeting, in person or by proxy, of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers Stock at the Record Date and entitled to vote will constitute a quorum. Elections to abstain from voting will be deemed present at the Special Meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum. Shares of Bristol-Myers Stock held in “street name” with respect to which the beneficial owner fails to give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee holder of record, and shares of Bristol-Myers Stock with respect to which the beneficial owner otherwise fails to vote, will not be deemed present at the Special Meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum. There must be a quorum for the vote on the Stock Issuance Proposal to be taken at the Special Meeting. Failure of a quorum to be present at the Special Meeting will necessitate an adjournment of the meeting.

Broker non-votes are shares held by a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record that are present in person or represented by proxy at the Special Meeting, but with respect to which the broker, bank or other nominee holder of record is not instructed by the beneficial owner of such shares on how to vote on a particular proposal and the broker does not have discretionary voting power on such proposal. Because brokers, banks and other nominee holders of record do not have discretionary voting authority with respect to either of the proposals to be considered at the Special Meeting, if a beneficial owner of shares of Bristol-Myers Stock held in “street name” does not give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee holder of record, then those shares will not be present in person or represented by proxy at the Special Meeting. As a result, there will not be any broker non-votes in connection with either of the proposals to be considered at the Special Meeting.

VOTES REQUIRED FOR APPROVAL

Approval of the Stock Issuance: According to the Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the votes cast by holders of outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers Stock is required to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal, assuming a quorum is present. Under the current rules and interpretive guidance of the NYSE, “votes cast” on the Stock Issuance Proposal consist of votes “for” or “against” as well as elections to abstain from voting on the Stock Issuance Proposal. As a result, a Bristol-Myers stockholder’s abstention from voting on the Stock Issuance Proposal will have the same effect as a vote “AGAINST” the approval of this proposal. The failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder who holds his or her shares in “street name” through a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record to give voting instructions to that broker, bank or other nominee holder of record or any other failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder to vote will have no effect on the approval of this proposal because these failures to vote are not considered “votes cast.” However, these failures to vote will make it more difficult to meet the requirement under Delaware law that the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers stock entitled to vote at the Special Meeting be present in person or represented by proxy to constitute a quorum at the Special Meeting.

Approval of the Adjournment Proposal (if necessary): According to the Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes present at the Special Meeting by Bristol-Myers stockholders entitled to vote (whether or not a quorum, as defined under Delaware law, is present) is required to approve the Adjournment Proposal. For purposes of the Adjournment Proposal, “votes present” on the Adjournment Proposal consist of votes “for” or “against” as well as elections to abstain from voting on the proposal. As a result, a Bristol-Myers stockholder’s abstention from voting on the Adjournment Proposal will have the same effect as a vote “AGAINST” the approval of the proposal. The failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder who holds his or her shares in “street name” through a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record to give voting instructions to that broker, bank or other nominee holder of record or any other failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder to vote will have no effect on the approval of this proposal because these failures to vote are not considered “votes present.”

REVOCATION OF PROXIES

Stockholders of the Company may revoke their proxies at any time prior to exercise by attending the Special Meeting and voting in person (although attendance at the Special Meeting will not in and of itself constitute revocation of a proxy) or by delivering a written notice of revocation. The delivery of a subsequently dated proxy which is properly completed will constitute a revocation of any earlier proxy. The revocation may be delivered either to Starboard in care of Okapi Partners at the address set forth on the back cover of this Proxy Statement or to the Company at 430 East 29th Street, 14th Floor, New York, New York 10016 or any other address provided by the Company. Although a revocation is effective if delivered to the Company, we request that either the original or photostatic copies of all revocations be mailed to Starboard in care of Okapi Partners at the address set forth on the back cover of this Proxy Statement so that we will be aware of all revocations and can more accurately determine if and when proxies have been received from the holders of record on the Record Date of a majority of the outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers Stock. Additionally, Okapi Partners may use this information to contact stockholders who have revoked their proxies in order to solicit later dated proxies against the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals.

SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

The solicitation of proxies pursuant to this Proxy Statement is being made by Starboard. Proxies may be solicited by mail, facsimile, telephone, telegraph, Internet, in person and by advertisements.

Starboard V&O Fund has entered into an agreement with Okapi Partners for solicitation and advisory services in connection with this solicitation, for which Okapi Partners will receive a fee not to exceed $950,000, together with reimbursement for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses, and will be indemnified against certain liabilities and expenses, including certain liabilities under the federal securities laws. Okapi Partners will solicit proxies from individuals, brokers, banks, bank nominees and other institutional holders. Starboard V&O Fund has requested banks, brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries to forward all solicitation materials to the beneficial owners of the Shares they hold of record. Starboard V&O Fund will reimburse these record holders for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in so doing. It is anticipated that Okapi Partners will employ approximately 30 persons to solicit stockholders for the Special Meeting.

The entire expense of soliciting proxies is being borne by Starboard. Costs of this solicitation of proxies are currently estimated to be approximately $650,000 (including, but not limited to, fees for attorneys, solicitors and other advisors, and other costs incidental to the solicitation). Starboard estimates that through the date hereof its expenses in connection with this solicitation are approximately $250,000. Starboard intends to seek reimbursement from the Company of all expenses it incurs in connection with this solicitation. Starboard does not intend to submit the question of such reimbursement to a vote of security holders of the Company.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE PROXY MATERIALS AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

Q: When and where is the Special Meeting?

A: The Special Meeting will be held on Friday, April 12, 2019, at the offices of Kirkland & Ellis LLP, located at 601 Lexington Avenue, New York, New York 10022, at 10:00 a.m., Eastern Time.

Q: Who is entitled to vote at the Special Meeting?

A: All holders of shares of Bristol-Myers Stock who held shares at the Record Date for the Special Meeting (the close of business on March 1, 2019) are entitled to receive notice of, and to vote at, the Special Meeting.

Q: What am I being asked to vote on at the Special Meeting?

A. You are being asked to vote on the following two proposals:
to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal; and to approve the Adjournment Proposal.

The approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal by Bristol-Myers stockholders is a condition to the obligations of Celgene and Bristol-Myers to complete the Merger. The approval of the Adjournment Proposal is not a condition to the obligations of Celgene or Bristol-Myers to complete the Merger.

Please see the sections entitled “Proposal 1: Stock Issuance Proposal” and “Proposal 2 Adjournment Proposal” for more about each of these proposals.

Q: How should I vote on the Stock Issuance Proposal?

A: We recommend that you vote “AGAINST” the Stock Issuance Proposal on the enclosed BLUE proxy card.

Q: How should I vote on the Adjournment Proposal?

A: We recommend that you vote “AGAINST” the Adjournment Proposal on the enclosed BLUE proxy card.

Q: What vote is required to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal?

The affirmative vote of at least a majority of the votes cast by holders of outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers Stock at a duly called and held meeting of Bristol-Myers' stockholders at which a quorum is present. Under the current rules and interpretive guidance of the NYSE, "votes cast" on the Stock Issuance Proposal consist of votes "for" or "against" as well as elections to abstain from voting on the Stock Issuance Proposal. As a result, a Bristol-Myers stockholder's abstention from voting on the Stock Issuance Proposal will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the approval of this proposal. The failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder who holds his or her shares in "street name" through a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record to give voting instructions to that broker, bank or other nominee holder of record or any other failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder to vote will have no effect on the approval of this proposal because these failures to vote are not considered "votes cast." However, these failures to vote will make it more difficult to meet the requirement under Delaware law that the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Bristol-Myers Stock entitled to vote at the Special Meeting be present in person or represented by proxy to constitute a quorum at the Special Meeting.

Q. What vote is required to approve the Adjournment Proposal (if necessary)?

The affirmative vote of a majority of the votes present at the Special Meeting by Bristol-Myers stockholders entitled to vote (whether or not a quorum, as defined under Delaware law, is present). For purposes of the Adjournment Proposal, "votes present" on the proposal consist of votes "for" or "against" as well as elections to abstain from voting on the proposal. As a result, a Bristol-Myers stockholder's abstention from voting on the Adjournment Proposal will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the approval of the proposal. The failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder who holds his or her shares in "street name" through a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record to give voting instructions to that broker, bank or other nominee holder of record or any other failure of a Bristol-Myers stockholder to vote will have no effect on the approval of this proposal because these failures to vote are not considered "votes present."

Q. How do I vote?

If you are a stockholder of record as of the Record Date, you may vote your shares on matters presented at the Special Meeting in any of the following ways:

- in person—You may attend the Special Meeting and cast your vote there; or
 - via the Internet or Telephone—Depending upon your broker or custodian, you may be able to vote either by the Internet or by toll-free telephone; or
 - by mail—Mark, sign, date, and return the enclosed BLUE proxy card in the accompanying prepaid reply envelope.
- If you are a beneficial owner of Bristol-Myers Stock as of the Record Date, please refer to the instructions provided by your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee to see which of the above choices are available to you. Your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee may provide for Internet and telephone voting. Please consult with your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee to determine if these options are available. Please note that if you are a beneficial owner and wish to vote in person at the Special Meeting, you must have a legal proxy from your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee.

Q: How important is my vote?

A: Your vote "AGAINST" each of the Stock Issuance Proposal and Adjournment Proposal is very important, and you are encouraged to submit a BLUE proxy card as soon as possible.

According to Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement, a stockholder's abstention from voting on the Stock Issuance Proposal will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal. The failure of a stockholder who holds his or her shares in "street name" through a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record to give voting instructions to that broker, bank or other nominee holder of record or any other failure of a stockholder to vote will have no effect on the approval of the Stock Issuance Proposal because these failures to vote are not considered "votes cast." A stockholder's abstention from voting on the Adjournment Proposal will have the same effect as a vote "AGAINST" the approval of the proposal. The failure of a stockholder who holds his or her shares in "street name" through a broker, bank or other nominee holder of record to give voting instructions to that broker, bank or other nominee holder of record or any other failure of a stockholder to vote will have no effect on the approval of the Adjournment Proposal because these failures to vote are not considered "votes present."

We urge you to demonstrate your opposition to the proposed Merger and to send a message to the Board that the proposed Merger is not in the best interest of Bristol-Myers stockholders by signing, dating and returning the enclosed BLUE proxy card as soon as possible.

Q: What happens if the Merger is not completed?

If the Stock Issuance Proposal is not approved by Bristol-Myers' stockholders or the Merger is not completed for any other reason, Celgene stockholders will not receive any payment for their shares of Celgene common stock in connection with the Merger. Instead, Celgene will remain an independent public company. Under specified circumstances, Celgene and/or Bristol-Myers may be required to reimburse the other party for the expenses it incurred in connection with the Merger Agreement or pay a termination fee upon termination of the Merger Agreement. For example, Bristol-Myers is required to reimburse Celgene for up to $40 million of its reasonable and out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Merger Agreement and the Merger if the Merger Agreement is terminated by either Bristol-Myers or Celgene due to the Bristol-Myers stockholders voting on and failing to approve the Stock Issuance Proposal at the Special Meeting.

Q: Where can I find additional information concerning Bristol-Myers and the Merger?

Pursuant to Rule 14a-5(c) promulgated under the Exchange Act, we have omitted from this Proxy Statement certain disclosure required by applicable law to be included in the Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement in connection with the Special Meeting, including:

- a summary term sheet of the Merger;

We take no responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of information contained in the Bristol-Myers Merger Proxy Statement. Except as otherwise noted herein, the information in this Proxy Statement concerning the Company has been taken from or is based upon documents and records on file with the SEC and other publicly available information.

Q. What do I need to do now?

If you hold your shares of Bristol-Myers Stock in your own name as the shareholder of record, please submit your proxy for your shares of Bristol-Myers Stock by completing, signing, dating and returning the enclosed BLUE proxy card in the accompanying prepaid reply envelope. If you decide to attend the Special Meeting and vote in person, your vote by ballot at the Special Meeting will revoke any proxy previously submitted. If you are a beneficial owner of shares of Bristol-Myers Stock, please refer to the instructions provided by your bank, brokerage firm or other nominee to see which of the above choices are available to you.

We urge you to carefully consider the information contained in this Proxy Statement and then support our efforts by signing, dating, and returning the enclosed BLUE proxy card today to vote AGAINST the Bristol-Myers Merger Proposals.
