HIGHLIGHTS

Edgar Filing: LINCOLN NATIONAL CORP - Form 8-K

To Our Shareholders:

The third quarter of 2001 can be characterized as anything but normal. The tragic events we witnessed on Sept. 11 left an indelible mark on all of our lives. And we at Lincoln continue to grieve for the family members, friends and colleagues who were personally affected.

The tragedy, coupled with the weak stock market clearly had a financial impact on the overall economy, as well as on Lincoln's third quarter earnings. But despite these events, our balance of both wealth accumulation and protection businesses, coupled with our broad array of products and distribution breadth helped to insulate us from an even worse impact.

In addition to growth in our life insurance segment earnings, we had positive net flows in our Annuities segment.

Lincoln reported income from operations of $143.2 million, or $.74 per diluted share. This compares to $190.7 million, or $.98 per diluted share in the year-ago period.

Our Annuities segment reported earnings of $72.4 million for the quarter. Despite equity market performance, we had record deposits of $1.6 billion and reached positive net cash flows for the first time since the second quarter of 1997.

Life Insurance income from operations was $70.1 million, reflecting $1.9 million in losses stemming from the Sept. 11 tragedy. Although overall life sales were down, over the course of the year we experienced sales growth in term life insurance products, as well as in MoneyGuard (registered trademark), our universal life product with a long-term care rider.

Income from operations for the Investment Management segment was $3.5 million, down from the $9.9 million reported in the third quarter 2000, due primarily to market depreciation. Relative investment performance continued to be strong with 16 of Delaware's 25 largest retail funds exceeding Lipper averages for the last 12 months.

Reinsurance reported income from operations of only $17.2 million. Earnings were reduced $31.3 million as a result of the Sept. 11 events.

Lincoln UK earnings were $10.1 million for the quarter, compared with $10.6 million a year ago. The decrease is due to the significant decline in equity markets.

All in all, we continue to make good progress on our goals, and will continue to focus on the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

Sincerely,

/S/ Jon A. Boscia

LFG Estimates Losses Related to Sept. 11 Tragedy

The calamity that befell our nation on Tuesday, Sept. 11 leaves us forever changed. And, as the country still mourns this day, the insurance industry is preparing itself for the large, but manageable costs of the claims associated with this tragedy.

According to a Wall Street Journal article, insurance industry analysts predict that direct life-insurers will pay approximately $4 billion to $6 billion in claims arising from the attacks, far below the $40 billion or more that the property-casualty insurers are expected to pay in claims. For the record, LFG exited its property-casualty operations in 1997.

Through the third quarter, Lincoln's direct life insurance segment reported losses of approximately $1.9 million after-tax, including reserves set up for unreported claims.

In the reinsurance segment, the total impact to operating earnings for the third quarter was $31.3 million and included a reserve for incurred but unreported claims.

"Lincoln remains in a solid financial position with excellent financial strength ratings, a strong balance sheet and substantial liquidity to meet all policyholder obligations and financial demands," said Jon A. Boscia, chairman and chief executive officer.

Lincoln's Elite Series of Funds:
A Whole New Meaning to One-Stop Shopping

Remember when life was simple? Although we all enjoy the ability to make choices, too many choices can be overwhelming at times. With the launch of Lincoln's Elite Series of Funds, Lincoln has managed to simplify its investment options from an enterprise-wide perspective and bring one-stop shopping to a whole new level. The Lincoln Elite Series of Funds is comprised of 44 variable investment options available in our 401(k), variable annuity and variable life products. This makes it easier for LFG's financial intermediaries to get to know the funds regardless of the product.

Lincoln's Elite Series of Funds also meet the investment objectives of all investor types. Fund managers include: AIM (registered trademark), American FundsSM, Delaware Investments, Janus, Franklin (registered trademark) Templeton (registered trademark), Deutsche Asset Management, Fidelity Investments (registered trademark), Neuberger Berman, Alliance Capital (registered trademark) and Putnam Investments.

"Due to customer demand for a high quality, consistent fund lineup, Lincoln's wholesaling group teamed up with its product manufacturers to develop a unique fund platform to be incorporated into Lincoln's products," said Wes Thompson, president and chief executive officer of Lincoln Financial Distributors. "Making it easy to do business with Lincoln is the best value proposition we can provide to our customers," he added.

Prior to the creation of the Lincoln Elite Series of Funds, Lincoln's distribution partners had to familiarize themselves with more than 60 funds from 17 different fund families that populated Lincoln's variable annuities, 401(k) and life insurance products. However, the development of the Lincoln Elite Series of Funds decreased the number of funds to 44 from 11 fund families. This represents a 27% reduction in funds and a 35% reduction in fund families that distributors have to learn and market to end-users. In addition, the smaller number of funds enables LFG to deepen its relationship with fewer fund families.

Fund performance is consistently monitored by an in-house research and due diligence team. Eventually, the Lincoln Elite Series of Funds will be incorporated into additional Lincoln products.

Control and Flexibility
Key Features of Income4Life SM Solution

"New Income4Life SM solution ad geared toward financial and intermediary trade publications".]

Joan and David Smith have worked all their lives and purchased an annuity as a retirement savings vehicle. As they near retirement, they have the same concern many Americans have regarding their golden years -- What if they run out of money?

Edgar Filing: LINCOLN NATIONAL CORP - Form 8-K

The couple could turn their variable annuity contract into lifetime income by simply annuitizing it. However, once they do this, they lose control of their assets and won't be able to make withdrawals even in an emergency situation.

Joan and David are hoping for a more flexible option where they can control their hard-earned retirement assets. That's why they decided to put their money in a Lincoln variable annuity and take advantage of the Income4LifeSM Solution. This feature offers control and flexibility, coupled with the benefits of tax advantages and lifetime income. In essence, once they begin the payout phase, they maintain both access and control of their assets and income.

Here's how this state-of-the-art income solution works. Working with a financial advisor, an investor selects one of Lincoln's variable annuities from the American Legacy single manager, the Lincoln ChoicePlusSM multi manager or the new Wells Fargo lineup. When the investor is ready to receive income distribution, he or she elects the Income4LifeSM Solution feature and selects a period of time in which to access the account assets. The investor begins receiving income payments, which will fluctuate based on performance of selected investments. During the access period, the investor can make transfers, additional withdrawals and request other service features, such as portfolio rebalancing of the account value. A survivor benefit is provided during the access period, with the beneficiary receiving 100 percent of the account value. In addition, before the initial access period ends, the investor may opt to change the length of the access period via an internal exchange.

There are a number of benefits to Joan and David. First is a positive experience each and every time they receive their income check. Second, the equity-oriented investment performance can be an excellent way to combat inflation, helping to assure the investors retirement assets retain their purchasing power throughout their retirement years. And, finally, the Smiths don't give up control of their assets in exchange for lifetime income.

A strategic rollout of the Income4LifeSM Solution, which included a marketing campaign geared toward brokers and advisors, began in May 2001. Print ads were placed in financial trade publications including the Wall Street Journal and Barron's, as well as trade publications such as On Wall Street, Registered Representative and Investment News. New marketing materials were also created for the product distributors and an aggressive education program was initiated.

"We are very encouraged by the strong interest in the Income4LifeSM Solution. In July, the first month of one key distributor's summer campaign, we received nearly 4,000 inquiries from broker/dealers," said Bill Boscow, chief marketing officer for Lincoln Annuities. The second phase of the promotional campaign is anticipated for early 2002.

The Quest to Getting Net Flow Positive

For the first time since the second quarter of 1997, Lincoln Annuities reached positive net flows. Total annuity deposits were a record $1.6 billion for the third quarter, up 27 percent over third quarter 2000. This was driven by strong sales of fixed annuities through the bank channel, as well as the sale of American Legacy, Lincoln ChoicePlusSM and Lincoln Alliance products.

What's the significance of this milestone? Generally speaking, net flows are one of the key indicators of Lincoln's future success. In the Annuities and Investment Management business segments, net flows are the result of deposits, or incoming dollars, minus outgoing dollars. The higher the net flows, the more Lincoln can expect to earn in future fee income. Positive net flows also indicate Lincoln's ability to grow the business with new accounts, as well as maintain existing business by stemming fund withdrawals.

Lincoln Annuities implemented a series of strategic initiatives that, in combination, led to increasing deposits and slowing withdrawals and ultimately positive net flows of $261 million in the third quarter. These initiatives included hiring a number of performance players into critical roles, including a new annuities CEO. In addition, a number of new products and product features were introduced, such as new fixed products and variable riders. Finally, improving retention levels and strengthening distribution alliances were also critical in reaching positive net flows.

During the second quarter of 2001, our Investment Management segment also had positive net flows of $285 million, driven by institutional net flows. However, during the third quarter of 2001, net flows were negative due to the repositioning of two major institutional clients and the consolidation of 14 funds. The Investment Management segment had slightly positive flows for the two quarters combined, and continues to work on initiatives that are designed to help get it to a consistent net flow positive. These include focusing on investment research and improving the relative investment performance of the Delaware family of funds. For the twelve months ended Sept. 30, 2001, 16 of Delaware's 25 largest retail funds exceeded Lipper averages.

While Lincoln is pleased with the overall positive trends we have witnessed in our Annuities segment and the progress we are making in our Investment Management segment, we recognize that fluctuations will occur as large cases come and go. However, we'll continue to execute on the initiatives started, and look for other opportunities to capitalize on our strengths.
