PROXYMED TO ACQUIRE PLANVISTA

- Acquisition of Medical Cost Containment Company Expands ProxyMed's Suite of Transaction Services for its Payer Customers -

Fort Lauderdale and Tampa, Florida. (Business Wire) December 8, 2003 ProxyMed, Inc. (Nasdaq: PILL), a leading provider of healthcare transaction processing services, and PlanVista Corporation (OTC: PVST), a provider of technology-based medical cost containment and business process outsourcing services, today announced the signing of a definitive merger agreement. Pending shareholder approvals, ProxyMed will acquire 100% of the outstanding capital stock of PlanVista.

PlanVista is a leading medical cost management firm and has contracts with more than 750 payer customers that provide healthcare coverage to more than two million plan members. PlanVista's network is one of the largest provider-based networks in the United States, comprised of approximately 400,000 physicians, 4,000 hospitals, and 55,000 ancillary providers covering all 50 states. PlanVista's proprietary repricing technology and data platform are industry-leading, and over 60% of PlanVista's claim volume is transmitted either via the Internet or other electronic means.

Over the past year, ProxyMed has been executing a strategy to add breadth and depth to its payer connectivity, product offering and relationships. The acquisition of MedUnite in December 2002 brought strong relationships with seven of the nation's largest insurance companies. ProxyMed then announced two new payer-oriented product and service offerings, FirstProxy ERA/EFT and medical cost containment in conjunction with PlanVista.

Through the existing commercial arrangement, ProxyMed has already established a large pipeline for PlanVista's services, with the first joint payer customer, Great-West Healthcare, being announced today in a separate press release. The acquisition of PlanVista is the logical expansion upon the existing commercial partnership. By becoming one company, ProxyMed can now offer a comprehensive and innovative end-to-end solution for processing claims and payment transactions both pre and post adjudication. This provides an opportunity for substantial acceleration of ProxyMed's top-line growth and profitability through cross-selling its more than 450 payer customers with the new service offerings.

The initial positive response we have been getting from our payer customers plus the strong comfort level developed from working with PlanVista's team over the last five months led us to pursue this transaction," said Michael K. Hoover, Chairman and CEO of ProxyMed. "We have built a solid core business at ProxyMed, and we are now focused on maximizing our growth opportunities and delivering new services to our existing customers. The combination of ProxyMed's direct payer connectivity and PlanVista's proven technology-based cost containment solutions will provide our customer base a broader and deeper range of services from which to choose.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2003, PlanVista reported revenues of $24.0 million and EBITDA profits of $7.2 million. For the same period, ProxyMed reported revenues of $53.2 million and EBITDA profits of $1.1 million. For the quarter ended September 30, 2003, PlanVista reported revenues of $8.0 million and EBITDA profits of $2.9 million, while ProxyMed reported revenues of $18.1 million and EBITDA profits of $1.6 million. A reconciliation of net income to EBITDA is set forth in the table below. In addition to the revenue growth expected from the comprehensive service offerings from the combined company, operating leverage associated with the elimination of duplicative expenses, including the public company expenses of PlanVista, is anticipated to lead to increased operating profits in the combined company.

Since announcing our commercial partnership, our two companies and management teams have been working very closely together to create connectivity between us, integrate our service offerings and launch our joint sales and marketing efforts," said Nancy J. Ham, President of ProxyMed. As a result, we have substantially mitigated the integration work that will be required to combine the two enterprises post-deal. However, we will be able to eliminate PlanVista's separate public company expenses, which combined with other reductions in duplicative functions should allow us to realize a merger synergy of more than $1 million on an annual basis. And with the exception of the duplicative administrative positions, we will be welcoming all of PlanVista's senior management to ProxyMed post-transaction.

The transaction is valued at $57.6 million (based on ProxyMed's closing price of $16.01 on December 5th). Additionally, ProxyMed is assuming $26.5 million in debt through the acquisition of PlanVista and will also fund the retirement of an additional $18.0 million of PlanVista's debt. Subject to the closing of the merger, ProxyMed is raising $24.1 million through the issuance of 1.691 million shares of common stock at $14.25 per share in a private placement to affiliates of General Atlantic Partners and Commonwealth Associates to fund the debt repayment, to pay for transaction-related expenses and for working capital purposes. With the signing of the definitive agreement, ProxyMed will write-off the $5.3 million carrying value of its warrant in PlanVista in the fourth quarter of 2003 as it will not exercise the warrant.

As approved by the Boards of Directors of each company, the merger calls for ProxyMed to issue 3.6 million shares of its common stock for all of the capital stock of PlanVista, which will represent approximately 30% of ProxyMed's outstanding stock post merger and related transactions. PlanVista's common stockholders will receive approximately 0.0869 shares of ProxyMed common stock for each share of PlanVista common stock, and the preferred stockholders will receive approximately 0.0685 shares of ProxyMed stock for each common share of PlanVista that their preferred stock is convertible into. These exchange ratios are subject to certain adjustments prior to the transaction closing. Based on the stock prices of the two companies on December 5, 2003, PlanVista's common and preferred stockholders would receive ProxyMed stock valued at approximately $1.39 for each share of PlanVista common stock and $1.09 for each share of PlanVista common stock that the preferred stock is convertible into, respectively.

Phillip S. Dingle, Chairman and CEO of PlanVista, said "We are excited to be joining forces with ProxyMed and believe that this strategic combination represents the absolute best alternative for our shareholders now and in the future. Among other objectives, the merger enables us to revive our growth prospects, which have been competitively disadvantaged by our balance sheet during the past two years, and also resolves the significant refinancing pressures we would otherwise face as we moved to complete a highly dilutive refinancing in the spring. Finally, the merger will give our shareholders more liquidity with respect to their shares though we clearly hope that, by removing some of the historical financial impediments to growth, we will have a renewed ability to enhance the value of those shares.

The transaction is subject to approval by shareholders of both companies and other customary closing conditions and is expected to close during the first quarter of 2004. Upon closing, PlanVista will operate as a wholly-owned subsidiary of ProxyMed. Additionally, upon closing, PlanVista will appoint William L. Bennett, a current independent director of PlanVista to ProxyMed's board, and will recommend an additional member for ProxyMed's approval.

EBITDA, a non-GAAP financial measure, is defined as earnings before interest, income taxes, depreciation, amortization and change in accounting principle.

EBITDA should not be considered a measure of financial performance under generally accepted accounting principles. Items excluded from EBITDA are significant components in understanding and assessing financial performance. We have included EBITDA because management believes it is a key measure used to evaluate our operating performance and is used by investors and analysts to evaluate companies in our industry. EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as an alternative to net income, cash flows data or other financial statement information presented in the consolidated financial statements as indicators of financial performance or liquidity. EBITDA is not a measurement determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and is thus susceptible to varying calculations. EBITDA as presented may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies.

A reconciliation to net income, a corresponding measure under GAAP, is as follows:

	ProxyMed, Inc.		PlanVista Corporation
	Three Months Ended	Nine Months Ended	Three Months Ended	Nine Months Ended
	September 30,	September 30,	September 30,	September 30,
	2003	2003	2003	2003
EBITDA(1)	$ 1,648	$ 1,132	$2,888	$ 7,162
Add (Deduct):
Depreciation and amortization	(1,478)	(4,153)	(155)	(425)
Interest expense	(203)	(572)	(646)	(2,032)
Other income	4,041	4,793
Provision for income taxes			(564)	(1,219)
Net income	$ 4,008	$ 1,200	$ 1,523	$ 3,486

- (1) EBITDA is a metric that ProxyMed and PlanVista believe is a meaningful measurement of operating performance as it allows for comparison of performance between other competitors in the healthcare IT industry. Additionally, both ProxyMed and PlanVista utilize EBITDA as one of the factors in determining its management performance rewards. The calculation of EBITDA has no basis in Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP).
