On August 15, 2006, an aggregate of $3,350,000 of Senior Convertible Debentures (the "Debentures") of China Mobility Solutions, Inc. (the "Company") matured. As of September 6, 2006, the Company has approximately $4,110,000 cash on hand and intends to repay the Debentures in their entirety with accrued interest except for individual Debenture holders who have agreed to extend their maturity date. Although the Company has applied to the banking authorities in the People's Republic of China to wire the funds to the Company such funds have not yet arrived.

The Company received letters (the "Default Letters") from the attorneys for two holders of an aggregate $875,000 principal amount of Debentures stating that the Company was in default under the Debentures as a result of its failure to pay principal plus interest thereon. The Company had paid all interest on the Debentures accrued through August 15, 2006. Interest accrued on the Debentures though maturity, at the rate of not less than 6% per annum equal to the sum of 2% per annum plus the one month LIBOR rate. From the maturity date of August 15, 2006, interest on outstanding principal amount of Debentures and unpaid accrued interest accrues at the rate of 12% per annum.
