2. Reasons for Revision of Consolidated Forecast

The forecast for the third quarter and for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2009 is based on the assumption that the financial instability caused by the sub-prime loan problem in the United States will stay not only in developed countries, but in the new emerging countries that have enjoyed steady growth, with the entire global economy is facing a period of contraction.

The forecast is also assumed on basis of continuing rise of raw materials price and in a continued strengthening of the yen, 95 yen to the U.S. dollar and 120 yen to the euro for the second half of the fiscal year.
