[Qualitative Information and Financial Statements]

1. Qualitative Information on Consolidated Operating Results

During the three months (the period) ended June 30, 2011, economic conditions have shown a steady recovery trend in Europe, especially in Germany and the U.K., led primarily by external demand. Russian economy has also recovered smoothly thanks to a rise in crude oil prices. In the United States, economic recovery has decelerated due to a slowdown in consumer spending and capital investment. In Japan, business outlook remains uncertain because the Great Eastern Japan Earthquake on March 11 inflicted serious damage on economic activities and aroused concern over the possibility of an instable electricity supply during the summer. Meanwhile, emerging countries in Asia and Central and South America have enjoyed continued economic growth owing to robust capital investment and consumer spending.

Our consolidated net sales for this period increased by 17.4% to 76,078 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year. This was because the global demand for power tools remained strong, although the yen's appreciation against other major currencies, especially the US dollar, resulted in a decline in sales. As for incomes, due to favorable sales results, operating income increased by 28.4% to 13,011 million yen (operating income ratio: 17.1%), income before income taxes increased by 43.2% to 13,449 million yen (income before income taxes ratio: 17.7%), and net income attributable to Makita Corporation increased by 56.4% to 9,456 million yen (net income attributable to Makita Corporation ratio: 12.4%), each compared to the same period of the previous year.

Net sales by region are as follows:

Net sales in Japan increased by 14.8% to 11,708 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year due to an increase in demands associated with post-quake reconstruction efforts.

Net sales in Europe increased by 18.3% to 32,665 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year as steady demands continued in Russia and certain developed countries such as Germany and the U.K..

Net sales in North America increased by 6.4% to 9,816 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year due to strong demands for rechargeable tools mounted with lithium-ion battery, although demand in the U.S. housing market was sluggish.

Net sales in Asia increased by 36.4% to 7,249 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year thanks to robust demands in Southeast Asian countries.

Net sales in the Middle East and Africa decreased by 8.5% to 3,833 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year because of the influences of political instabilities in some areas in these regions. However, net sales in Central and South America increased by 38.9% to 6,073 million yen and net sales in Oceania increased by 21.5% to 4,734 million yen compared to the same period of the previous year. These last two regions have shown a substantial increase in sales because their economies have been in good condition against the backdrop of rising resource prices.

2. Qualitative Information on Consolidated Financial Position

(Analysis on assets, liabilities and shareholders' equity)

Total assets as of June 30, 2011, decreased by 2,388 million yen to 370,119 million yen compared to the balance as of March 31, 2011. The main reason for this decrease was the sale of marketable securities to pay dividends and a decrease in time deposits, although inventories increased.

Total liabilities as of June 30, 2011, decreased by 2,977 million yen to 59,852 million yen compared to the balance as of March 31, 2011. The main reason for this decrease was that accrued payroll, income taxes payable and trade notes and accounts payable decreased, while short-term borrowings increased.

Total equity as of June 30, 2011, increased by 589 million yen to 310,267 million yen compared to the balance as of March 31, 2011.

3. Qualitative Information on Consolidated Financial Performance Forecast

The evaluation of yen against major currencies seems to remain higher than our forecast that was announced on April 28, 2011. However, owing to the recovery of global demands for power tools, the sales have been strong. In these situations, our forecast consolidated performance for the six months ending September 30, 2011, which were announced on April 28, 2011, were revised as shown on this document.

However, the forecast consolidated performance for the year ending March 31, 2012 remain unchanged from the last announcement (as of April 28, 2011), because both the exchanging ratio trends and the demands trends are unclear.

Revised Forecast for Consolidated Performance for the six months ending September 30, 2011 (from April 1, 2011 to September 30, 2011)

The above forecast is based on information as available at the present time, and includes potential risks and uncertainties. As a consequence of the factors above and other, actual results may vary from the forecast provided above.
