*See attached Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures.

Third Quarter Financial Results:

Revenues totaled $8.4 million for the third quarter of 2003 compared to $11.1 million for the similar quarter in 2002. The 2002 period results included production from the Canadian assets sold by the Company in January 2003 (see the May 13, 2003 press release detailing the series of transactions concluded in January that significantly impacted the Company going forward). The Company realized $4.50 per Mcf for its Q3 2003 natural gas production compared to $2.08 per Mcf in the 2002 period. The Company produced 1.8 Bcfe of natural gas during this quarter compared to 4.2 Bcfe in the third quarter of last year, which included the Canadian assets. Compared to a similar asset base, third quarter of 2003 production represented a 9.4% increase from Q2 levels, as a result of ongoing development activities.

Continuing cash flow for the quarter totaled $3.8 million compared to negative $3.0 million in the third quarter of 2002. Higher price realizations coupled with the significant reduction in cash interest costs resulted in this improvement over 2002 even with the smaller asset base. The Company's debt position at September 30, 2003 was $159 million ($177 million carrying value) compared to $295 million at September 30, 2002. Only $41 million of the Company's current debt carries a cash pay interest burden while the entire $295 million in 2002 was cash interest bearing.

Several non-recurring and in some cases non-cash expenses impacted the third quarter results. Stock based compensation expense (a gain in this period) of $326,000 (non-cash) resulted from re-priced option accounting rules. This amount was a partial recovery of $756,000 in expense that was booked earlier in 2003. During the quarter the Company incurred non-recurring costs of $581,000 associated with ongoing financing activities. An additional gain of $298,000 was booked in the third quarter related to the sale of the Canadian subsidiaries in January of this year. The gain for the third quarter was related to post-closing adjustments to the sale. "Other" expense in Q3 included $674,000 related to the settlement of a dispute with a joint venture partner in a Canadian project. The settlement also included the transfer of certain rights on some Canadian unproven acreage owned by the Company to the partner for $674,000 cash, which reduced the Company's full cost pool. The overall settlement was cash neutral to the Company but, as a result of the structure, there was a negative impact on earnings but a positive impact on the balance sheet with debt reduction from sale proceeds.

Third Quarter Operations Update:

During the quarter the Company spent $6.3 million on capital expenditures related to operations in both west Texas and the province of Alberta, Canada. On U.S. operations a total of $3.6 million was invested related to the drilling of one new well and completion and testing activities on previously drilled wells. Production from U.S. properties increased 8.4% from the second quarter as a result of this continuing development. Three new operated wells and three PrimeWest operated wells (with the Company's interest carried cost free under a farmout agreement) were spudded in Canada during the third quarter with a total of $2.7 million invested in those activities as well as completion and testing of previously drilled wells. Canadian production increased 16% from Q2 as new production has come online during Q3, as well as stabilized production in the Company's Ladyfern area resulting from installation of additional compression facilities.

Key quarterly results are summarized below:

Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To fully assess Abraxas' operating results, management believes that, although not prescribed under generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), discretionary cash flow and EBITDA are appropriate measures of Abraxas' ability to satisfy capital expenditure obligations and working capital requirements. Cash flow and EBITDA are non-GAAP financial measures as defined under SEC rules. Abraxas' cash flow and EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for other financial measurements prepared in accordance with GAAP or as a measure of the Company's profitability or liquidity. As cash flow and EBITDA exclude some, but not all, items that affect net income and may vary among companies, the cash flow and EBITDA presented below may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. Management believes that operating income (loss) calculated in accordance with GAAP is the most directly comparable measure most similar to cash flow and EBITDA.

Cash flow is defined as operating income (loss) plus depletion, depreciation and amortization expense, non-cash expenses, cash gains (losses) on the settlement of non-hedge derivatives and cash portion of other income (expense) and cash interest. The following table provides a reconciliation of cash flow to operating income (loss) for the periods presented.

Operating income (loss)	$2,694	$490		$10,267

Cash interest	(964)	(8,601)		(2,640)
Cash Flow	$3,822	$ (3,025)		$15,955

EBITDA is defined as net income (loss) plus interest expense, depletion, depreciation and amortization expenses, deferred income taxes and other non-cash items. The following table provides a reconciliation of EBITDA to operating income (loss) for the periods presented.
