ITEM 2.06 MATERIAL IMPAIRMENTS

In connection with the sale of Columbian Chemicals Company (Columbian) discussed in Item 8.01, Phelps Dodge Corporation (Phelps Dodge) recorded in the 2005 fourth quarter a goodwill impairment charge of $89 million ($67 million after-tax and net of minority interest) to reduce the carrying value of Columbian to its estimated fair value less costs to sell.

ITEM 8.01 OTHER EVENTS

On March 17, 2006, Phelps Dodge issued a press release announcing that it had completed the sale of its wholly owned subsidiary Columbian, a leading manufacturer of rubber and industrial carbon-black products, to an entity jointly owned by One Equity Partners LLC, a private equity affiliate of JPMorgan Chase & Co., and DC Chemicals Co. Ltd., a South Korean chemical manufacturer.

Under the terms of the Master Agreement, Phelps Dodge received base purchase price proceeds of $543 million and approximately $100 million of Columbian s foreign-held cash. The agreement also includes a provision for post-closing adjustments. At closing, those adjustments, together with transaction expenses, were estimated to reduce net proceeds by approximately $43 million, for approximate net proceeds of $600 million upon final settlement. The transaction resulted in special, net after-tax charges of approximately $65 million, resulting principally from goodwill impairment charges, employee-related costs and tax benefits. Of that amount, approximately $43 million was recognized in the 2005 fourth quarter.

A copy of the Company s press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.
