Vale informs about Sparrows Point

Rio de Janeiro, December 18, 2007 Companhia Vale do Rio Doce (Vale) informs that negotiations carried through a joint venture, in which Vale would have a minority stake, with ArcelorMittal USA, for the acquisition of the Sparrows Point steel mill, in the east coast of the U.S., were terminated without the achievement of its goal.

In consequence, Vale's commitment of investing up to US$ 270 million, publicly announced in August 2, 2007, no longer exists.

This press release may contain statements that express management's expectations about future events or results rather than historical facts. These forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected in forward-looking statements, and Vale cannot give assurance that such statements will prove correct. These risks and uncertainties include factors: relating to the Brazilian and Canadian economy and securities markets, which exhibit volatility and can be adversely affected by developments in other countries; relating to the iron ore and nickel business and its dependence on the global steel industry, which is cyclical in nature; and relating to the highly competitive industries in which Vale operates. For additional information on factors that could cause Vale's actual results to differ from expectations reflected in forward-looking statements, please see Vale's reports filed with the Brazilian Comissão de Valores Mobiliários and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
